COLUMBUS, May 16—Leaders of both the Republican and Democratic parties set to work today to heal, if they can, wounds opened in the primary campaign, and there were many.

Intra-party strife of a serious character has been confined largely to the Democratic party in the last few years, but in the wake of the primary run off Tuesday the Republicans found that they, too, were beset with the same malady.

Republican factionalism was stirred up by the open endorsement by GOP State Chairman Ed D. Schorr a number of primary candidates. No serious consequences would have resulted had the chairman's favored aspirants been successful at the polls, but for the most part they were not.

Three Not Supported

After the primary Schorr had cleared, Schorr found himself facing the task of directing the general election campaigns of three major Republican state candidates whom he had opposed. They were Mayor Harold Burton of Cleveland, nominee for U. S. senate; Edward Hummel, Cincinnati, nominee for secretary of state, and Joseph T. Tracy, nominee for state auditor.

Still another Schorr-endorsed candidate met defeat, Harry W. Jewell by Blinton D. Boyd, for the January 1 supreme court term, but after their nomination supreme court candidates are more or less on their own, for their names appear on a non-partisan judicial ballot in November.

There seemed little likelihood of Schorr being replaced as chairman when the newly-elected state central committee organized, for he supported Governor Bricker for re-nomination and the gubernatorial nominee invariably wields the greatest influence in such matters.

SIX HUGE DIRT-HAULING TRUCKS GET ATTENTION

A fleet of six gigantic dirt-hauling trucks, parked in North Court Street early Thursday, attracted much attention. The trucks, all Diesel-engined and equipped with enormous tires, were enroute to Huntington, W. Va., where Ralph Myers, Salem, Ind., contractor, is building a flood wall. The actual work is being done at Kenova, but the headquarters is located in Huntington.

Each of the trucks is capable of hauling 16 yards of dirt at one time, the largest load any truck can carry.

BIG LOUVAIN FIGHT BEGINS; COLLAPSE OF ALLIES NEAR?

British Forces Line Up To Engage Nazis Brussels-Bound

By Robert J. Nixon
With the British Expeditionary Force in Belgium, May 16—British forces in France swept into violent action against the invading army of Nazi Germany 'all along the Belgian front running through Louvain today.

Heavy artillery stabbed and pounded mercilessly, inflicting heavy casualties on German mechanized units which attempted to breach the Louvain canal with tanks directly in front of the British positions.

The attempt failed utterly, and although a few tanks succeeded in crossing the canal, they were either smashed to bits or compelled to retire.

The Germans obviously are attempting to drive through Louvain and crush Brussels under their heels. The effort has brought fighting on a tremendous scale. Louvain, dear to American memory because of its famed university that was rebuilt by American money after its destruction in the last invasion, is in the thick of it.

May Be Under Way

General action along the entire front held by British forces is in its first phase, but what probably will be the greatest battle in history may be said to be under way.

Mechanized units of the British army are spread out fanwise toward the East. Some of the advance units retired slowly, blowing up bridges east of Louvain to impede the German advance.

Fighting is hard and savage. The losses are probably heavy on both sides. Louvain itself, now deserted, has been subjected to incessant German bombings for the last five days. The beautiful library thus far has been spared, but two bombs landed within 100 yards of its walls.

From a vantage point not far from Louvain I had an opportunity to gaze eastward over a vast panorama of battle.

Over green fields just ripening into grain British shells roared and screamed. From far away came flashes and puffs of smoke from bursting shells. Finally, a British battery concealed in the woodland opened a crashing attack on German batteries far away.

Shells of heaviest calibre could be seen bursting and smashing visible objects two or three miles distant. I saw German shell-fire crash into a deserted village. Flashes of flame and heavy smoke told the tale of that luckless town.

PARIS, May 16—A full-fledged war of movement was in full swing today between Namur and Sedan as the Germans sought to push their armored columns ever deeper into Belgian and French territory.

IRA M. SCOTHORN DIES IN WALNUT TOWNSHIP HOME

Ira M. Scothorn, 69, one of Pickaway County's most prominent farmers, died suddenly at 8:15 a. m. Thursday at his home in Walnut Township after a heart attack. Mr. Scothorn had been ailing for several weeks, but his condition had not been considered serious.

He died in the same house in which he was born June 20, 1870, a son of Monroe and Margaret Morrison Scothorn.

Surviving are his widow, Mary Altha Burgett Scothorn; a brother, George M., and a sister, Mrs. Charles F. Brinker.

Mr. Scothorn had always taken an active part in farming, business and social circles of his community. He was a member of the Ashville Methodist Church, a member of the Scioto Valley Grange and treasurer of Pomona Grange, and had served as a director of the Ashville Grain Co. and the Reber Hill Cemetery Association, holding the latter office for the last 27 years.

Funeral arrangements in charge of E. F. Schlegel have not been completed.

Berlin Claims Drive Leads Into City Near Maginot

BERLIN, May 16—With the capture of Longwy just north of the Maginot Line, German "blitz" troops have widened the battle-front in Belgium and France and cleared the way "for what may be one of the greatest defeats of modern times," official Nazi spokesmen declared today.

Predicting an Allied collapse, possibly within the next few days, German military circles asserted that Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's 1940 adaptation of the famous Von Schlieffen plan for encirclement of Paris was proceeding with a speed and precision far exceeding that of 1914.

The German army, according to military information in Berlin, is gradually moving into full battle position and the next few days undoubtedly will see a large-scale engagement "overshadowing Waterloo and the Marne in its extent and importance."

The battle will break, it was said, all along the line from Antwerp along the Dyle River to Namur.

Great Havoc Reported

Already, according to German spokesmen, the Nazi drive has caused far greater havoc within the Allied ranks than anyone suspects.

The climax is expected over the week end. The North and South arms of the German pincer are already pushing the Allies back in a menacing manoeuvre.

Qualified authorities again spoke of secret German weapons including new anti-tank defenses which were brought into play south of Sedan.

By these means, it was said, French tanks attacking in waves "were destroyed like wheat before the sweep of scythe."

The French citadel at Longwy, an official announcement said, was taken by German troops at 6 a. m. on Tuesday.

BRITISH IN SWISS AREA URGED TO LEAVE FOR HOME

ZURICH, May 16—The British consulate today advised all Britons to leave Switzerland in view of a "possible emergency."

Trains leaving Zurich were crowded with evacuees as rumors spread that German troops were concentrated near Basle. Guards around public buildings and strategic bridges and railways have been doubled.

BUDAPEST, May 16—American citizens in the Balkans today contemplated leaving for the United States lest the European war spread to southeastern Europe and strand them in a danger zone.

Reports from Belgrade stated that Americans in Yugoslavia have decided to depart on the next available boat. In Budapest, American residents are considering sending their wives and children home, although they have received no official orders from the United States legation.

Wives of staff members of the American legation will remain in Budapest, according to present plans.

It was pointed out that Americans wishing to leave may face difficulties, since the vessels sailing to America from Italy are fully booked.

VOTERS APPROVE WATER PLANT AT NEW HOLLAND

The new Holland $15,000 bond issue for a water works construction passed by a small majority, it was revealed Thursday, after Fayette County officials reported the West Holland precinct vote to be 45 for the bond issue and one against, making the total vote 225 for to 112 against the proposal.

Almost 67 percent of the vote cast was in favor of the proposal, 65 percent being the amount required by law for passage.

ITALY RECEIVES NOTE FROM F. D.

Plea To Cooperate In Trying To Prevent War Spread Heard

ROME, May 16—A message to Premier Mussolini from President Roosevelt, urging that Italy cooperate in preventing the war's extension has been delivered through Foreign Minister Count Ciano Italian officials admitted today.

Earlier the United States embassy in Rome confirmed reports that the American president had sent a communication to Il Duce. The note was said to have been delivered yesterday morning.

Neither the American embassy nor Italian government officials would disclose the contents of the American president's message, but Italian authorities said the note was of "personal nature."

Italian officials were favorably impressed by President Roosevelt's initiative, but they maintained the utmost reserve regarding the message pending Mussolini's decision.

However, an official communique issued late today said that diplomatic circles were not optimistic concerning the opportunities of the American president's message.

At the same time, reports reached Rome from Valletta of the arrest of numerous Maltese nationalists. These included a newspaper editor and a university professor, as well as many others.

POSTPONE MENT OF G. O. P. MEET BEING ADVISED

WASHINGTON, May 16—A powerful Republican personage is sounding out his party's leaders today on a proposal to postpone the G.O.P. presidential convention from June 24 to mid-August.

Two reasons lie behind the postponement suggestion:

1. The latest German "blitzkrieg" may create many new international issues that cannot be met by writing a platform in June.

2. The second World war likely will be still raging in June but may be settled by August and its outcome might have a predominant influence on the naming of the Republican presidential nominee.

NAVY TRANSFERS ROSENDAHL FROM HAWAIIAN REGION

LOS ANGELES, May 16—Home from fleet duties in Hawaii, Commander Charles E. Rosendahl was preparing today to leave for Washington to take up new duties in the office of the secretary of the navy.

"There is no doubt in my mind," he said, "that we ought to equip our navy with scores of helium-filled blimps for use as coastal scouts to spot enemy submarines, and mines that may be laid by submarines and possibly aircraft."

He declared the navy has designs for a new dirigible "half again as big as the ill-fated Hindenburg." The latter was destroyed by an explosion and fire at Lakehurst, N. J., several years ago.

INVENTOR FAILS TO PUT ON EXPLOSION EXPERIMENT

ABERDEEN, Md., May 16—A rain-drenched congressional committee and miscellaneous brasshats of the army left Aberdeen proving grounds today without seeing a demonstration of Inventor Lester P. Barlow's claimed deadly ginite explosive.

Mr. Barlow did not leave immediately for the obvious reason that he was detained while the congressmen muttered about holding him in contempt of their committee for refusing to go through with his demonstration.

Need For 50,000 More Military And Naval Planes Stressed; European Developments Are Reviewed

WASHINGTON, May 16—Warning grimly that the United States is no longer safe from swift and deadly attack, President Roosevelt this afternoon called on congress to give him $1,182,000,000, to set up additional defenses that will make "our security absolute."

"Our task is plain," the President told a joint session of congress. "The road we must take is clearly indicated. Our defenses must be invulnerable, our security absolute. But our defense as it was yesterday, or even as it is today, does not provide security against potential developments and dangers of the future."

Recognizing the deadly menace of the bombing and combat plane, Mr. Roosevelt proposed that the nation start at once on a program that will "provide us with 50,000 military and naval planes."

Mr. Roosevelt further asked that congress take no action which would in any way hamper or delay delivery of American made planes "to foreign nations which have ordered them, or seek to purchase more planes."

Sum Divided

Requesting an immediate appropriation of $896,000,000 Mr. Roosevelt said he would divide it approximately as follows:

1. For the army $546,000,000.
2. For the navy and marine corps $250,000,000.
3. To the President to provide for emergencies affecting the national security and defense $100,000,000.

In addition he requested authorizations enabling the army, navy and marine corps to make contract obligations in further sum of $186,000,000.

He asked that he be permitted to make additional contract authorizations for $100,000,000.

The President advised congress that the greater part of the $200,000,000 in appropriations and authorizations to be controlled by him would be used primarily to increase production of airplanes, anti-aircraft guns, and the training of additional personnel for these weapons.

War Reviewed

Standing before an intently jammed house chamber, President Roosevelt reviewed solemnly recent developments in the European war.

He pointed out that this continent was vulnerable to possible attack by air from Greenland within four to six hours.

He warned that modern bombers could reach our eastern seaboard from Bermuda within three hours if that British possession fell into hostile hands.

The coast of Florida, he said, could be reached in 200 minutes from the outer West Indies.

Similarly, he pointed out that the flying distance from Brazil is but seven hours and he measured variously the brief time in which the Canal Zone could be hit and our interior cities reached from Mexico.

"Surely, the developments of the last few weeks have made it clear to all of our citizens," he said, "that the possibility of attack on vital American zones ought to make it essential that we have the physical, the ready ability to meet those attacks and to prevent them from reaching their objectives."

"This means military implements—not on paper—which are ready and available to meet any lightning offensive against our American interests."

NEW YORK, May 16—The old commission for relief in Belgium which functioned during the first World War was being re-established today under the same head it had in the years from 1914 to 1918, former President Herbert Hoover.

Headquarters were being set up in New York and the persons who served 25 years ago under Hoover are being asked to serve again. Many generous offers of help have already been received, it was announced.

A radiogram appealing for help for more than 200,000 Belgian and Dutch refugee children was received yesterday by the International Child Service committee.

ROBERT WATT DISCHARGED AFTER TERM IN U. S. NAVY

Robert Watts, one of the twin sons of Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Watts of East Main Street, returned home Wednesday, having been discharged from the United States Navy after serving a four year term of enlistment. His brother, Roderick, will be discharged about the middle of June at the completion of his four years of service in the same department.

Robert left Honolulu April 26 and was released at San Diego, Cal., May 10. He had been on duty on the Northampton, a heavy cruiser, a part of the Hawaiian detachment, and had spent the last two years in the tropics.

PRIMARY'S VOTE 7,012, BIGGEST EVER IN COUNTY

Democrats Total 5,174 And Republicans 1,838 During Tuesday's Balloting

The Board of Elections revealed Thursday that Tuesday's primary election was the biggest ever conducted in the county, 5,174 Democratic and 1,838 Republican votes being cast, according to the official count.

Veteran board officials declared the ballot was bigger than in 1936, and up to this year the 1936 primary had been regarded as the largest. Difficulty in counting the vote, especially on the Democratic ticket, caused returns to be available later than usual although Pickaway County completed its work much earlier than did several other counties in Central Ohio.

The Republican write-in for Dr. F. C. Schaeffer for coroner was successful, Claude Kraft, election board clerk, said Thursday. Dr. Schaeffer needed eight percent of the total Republican vote of 1,838, but obtained considerably more than that number, 240 being checked for him.

Bowers Leaves Job

Dr. Schaeffer will oppose Dr. E. L. Montgomery, the Democratic nominee, in November, Coroner C. E. Bowers retiring from the post after 12 years of service.

No other write-ins developed enough momentum to nominate any other candidates. Friends of Emmitt L. Crist wrote his name on the Democratic ticket about 40 times, but this figure was not near enough for nomination.

In the 11th District race for congress Harold K. Claypool of Chillicothe won all five counties from Robert L. Immell. The unofficial totals gave Claypool 14,758 against 5,956 for the Yellowbud Democrat.

Ray W. Davis of Circleville defeated four other opponents for the Republican nomination for congress, his unofficial total being 6,726 against 5,222 for C. L. Chute of New Lexington and 3,085 for Tom P. White of Fairfield County. L. P. Mooney, who withdrew from the race and asked that his friends support Davis, and H. H. Hughes of Hocking County failed to cut much of a figure in the primary.

Tom A. Renick was named Republican state central committeeman and Walter Gordon of Lancaster was named Democratic central committeeman. Mrs. Lotie Randolph of New Lexington and Mrs. Hulse Hays of Circleville were named state central committeewomen by Republicans and Democrats, respectively, without opposition.

Robert Watts, one of the twin sons of Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Watts of East Main Street, returned home Wednesday, having been discharged from the United States Navy after serving a four year term of enlistment. His brother, Roderick, will be discharged about the middle of June at the completion of his four years of service in the same department.

Robert left Honolulu April 26 and was released at San Diego, Cal., May 10. He had been on duty on the Northampton, a heavy cruiser, a part of the Hawaiian detachment, and had spent the last two years in the tropics.

Roderick, who is on duty on the U. S. Tennessee, is stationed at the United States Navy Yard at Bremerton, Wash.

By S. D. Fridley
Ashville, Phone 79

The local school board, Dr. C. J. Rockey, Clayton Baum, Donald Courtwright, Stanley Beckett and Ralph Stevenson, which has to do with the grade schools, was in session at the school office Tuesday evening. Paid current bills and reemployed all the grade teachers, from one to eight inclusive. The resignations of Merle Smith, seventh grade teacher, and Miss Lillian Kaiserman of the fourth grade were received and accepted by the board. What the future plans, if any, the two teachers may have, has not been announced.

The Harrison Township board of education comprised of Jesse Baum, James Kuhlwein, Thomas Purcell, Benford Millar, Charles Wilson and the clerk Roy Teagardin, was in session at the Duval school Monday evening, and other than paying bills, employed teachers for the next school year. For the Duval school, Miss Eunice Dennis was again retained as principal with Miss Ann Boone reemployed for grades one and two. No one was employed for grades 3-4-5, this deferred until the next meeting. For the South Bloomfield school, Karl Drum was again made principal in charge of grades 6-7-8. The Misses Jessie Fern Gloyd and Margaret Dunlap were reemployed for the other grades, Miss Gloyd in charge of 3-4-5 and Miss Dunlap, 1-2. In addition to this teacher hiring the board changed the length of the school year from a 34-weeks period to 36.

Cecil Scott, waterworks superintendent, is installing water service in the newly remodeled Guy and Mrs. Leatherwood home.

That large elm tree limb, which hung far out over the street in the Long Street business section, was removed Wednesday by Commissioner Walden and his assistant, Fred Costlow. A wire will connect with this tree and the one on the opposite side of the street used to support a picture screen which show is scheduled to get into operation this Thursday evening.

Saltcreek Pupils Rate High in Senior Tests

An official report of the recent state scholarship test for high school seniors, received Thursday by Superintendent George D. McDowell of county schools, discloses that at least three of Pickaway County's seniors rated very well in the district.

Marcine Dickson, Saltcreek Township student, rated first in the district typewriting competition and will receive an honorable mention certificate. Ruth Mary Crawford, also of Saltcreek Township, was seventeenth in the competition. Miss Dickson's score was 50.1 and Miss Crawford's was 36.82.

Charlotta J. Schaal, also of Saltcreek Township, was seventh in Ohio in second year Latin and will receive state honors. Several other students will receive honorable mention certificates, including Max Neal, Scioto, who ranked fifth in the district in biology; Oran Neff, Perry, who was fourth in the district in chemistry; Bobby Klingensmith, Washington, eighth in the district in general science.

Two bookkeeping contestants, Helen Straley and Anna Belle Carle of Deercreek Township, ranked seventeenth and twenty-third, respectively, in the district commercial test.

Other ratings follow: Biology: Emogean Carr, Perry, eighth in district; chemistry, William C. Martin, Ashville, eighth in district; general science, Robert Stump, New Holland, eleventh; physics, Francis Peters, Walnut, twentieth; Algebra, Paul D. Schein, Deercreek, and Norma V. Vause, Ashville, twentieth; plane geometry, Nellie Brown, Deercreek, fifteenth; World history, Nellie Truex, Walnut, seventeenth, and Virginia Kautz, Darby, nineteenth; first year Latin, Mary Puffinbarger and Virginia Buskirk, nineteenth and eighteenth; first year French, Jean Brown, Saltcreek, tenth; second year French, Viola Mae Alkire, Pickaway, twelfth; ninth year English, Betty Krieger, Scioto, sixth, and Donna Dill, Walnut, thirteenth; tenth year English, Gladys Bowshier, Scioto, nineteenth, and Gervaise F. Peters, Ashville, thirteenth; eleventh year English, Mildred Shupe, Saltcreek, twelfth.

STARS BUY FARMLANDS

The radio stars of today will be the land-owners of tomorrow, if the number of farm owners among the top flight broadcasters is any indication. In any event, many of the ether stars are socking their money away in farmland, as a sort of insurance against the day when the broadcasting business will stop paying dividends.

They take their farms seriously too, most of them. For instance, Fibber McGee and Molly raise their own chickens and personally supervise the planting on their recently-purchased San Fernando Valley farm.

On his 350 acre place in Dutchess County, N. Y., CBS star Prof. Quiz raises wheat and corn and before the summer is over, expects to have a 100 head of prize cattle in his well-kept stables.

Arlene Francis, femme of What's My Name, is another New York State farmer. Her beautiful country estate has its own swimming pool, pheasant run, trout stream, and Arlene specializes in raising ducks.

Across the road from Arlene, Fred Uttal, announcer on the Big Sister program, owns an estate with wheat growing as the chief business.

In California, Star Theatre tenor Kenny Baker operates a successful fruit farm and in Indiana, dramatic actor Hugh Studebaker is the new owner of an 80 acre corn planted tract.

Penny Singleton, blonde star of the CBS Blondie series, is perhaps the exception that proves the rule. Penny invests her money in city real estate, the latest investment being a model home which she is having constructed in Los Angeles.

ETHEL BARRYMORE

Ethel Barrymore, repeating on the Star Theatre, will be presented Wednesday, May 22, 8:00 p.m. over CBS in "Daisy Mayme," a comedy by George Kelly, author of "The Show Off," and "Craig's Wife." It is the story of a 40 year old spinster who becomes housekeeper for a 40 year old man, teaches him to handle his self-seeking relatives how to get fun out of life, and eventually, marries him. On the Hollywood end, Sabu, the elephant boy, will be presented with Ken Murray, Frances Langford and Kenny Baker.

AL PEARCE

Al Pearce becomes involved in the difficulties of casting a play when he airs his half hour of comedy over CBS Friday, at 6:30 p. m.

The genial comedian, incited by Artie "Mr. Kitzel" Auerbach, to produce the drama, finds himself heckled by Kitzel, finds himself ur Q. Bryan, orchestra leader Carl Hoff and Announcer Wen Niles.

Elmer Blurt, the "low-pressure" salesman finds his technique doesn't carry much water when confronted with the law, for the "I hope, I hope, I hope" man gets into a conversational tangle with a traffic cop.

Marie Greene and her Merry Men will sing "Who'll Buy My Violets." Carl Hoff's orchestra will play a medley from the new musical show, "Louisiana Purchase."

RADIO BRIEFS

Ken Murray, emcee of the Wednesday night oil show, is booked into Paramount Theatre in New York for two weeks beginning July 4.

Arrangements are under way to broadcast the Hollywood Bowl presentation of "Ballad for Americans" which will be sung by Robeson accompanied by harmonic Orchestra of geles under the direction of David Broekman.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 PINTS A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys remove excess acids and poisonous waste from your blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up lights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passage with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 5 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

STATE PATROL ACTS TO REDUCE TRAFFIC DEATHS

Black Explains Policy of Highway Organization In Regard To Violations

WORD HASTE DISCUSSED

Chillicothe District Chief Releases Statement By Ohio Superintendent

A move by the State Highway Patrol, designed to cut down traffic accidents and warning persons who insist on breaking Ohio driving laws, was announced Thursday by Captain R. L. Galbreath of the Chillicothe office of the patrol. Circleville and Pickaway County are served by the Chillicothe district.

The patrol's policy is discussed in an article written by Colonel Lynn Black, superintendent of the patrol, and released by Captain Galbreath, who said: "Colonel Black's statement discusses our policy in enforcement of speed regulations."

Haste Important Word

The superintendent blames haste as the cause for the high death rate on Ohio's highways. Colonel Black appeals to all motor vehicle drivers to cooperate. "According to nationwide traffic accident experience," Colonel Black said, "nine out of every ten accidents for which the driver is to blame result from undue haste—haste to pass another car when it means taking a chance on being on the wrong side of the road in a tight squeeze; haste in going through the intersection when the other motorist was there first; haste on curves and hills; haste while traveling on the highway and not being able to cope with emergencies; haste on gravel roads, wet roads, and icy roads which results in going off the highway."

"Until drivers learn what speed limits mean, we must expect to count the dead in hundreds and the injured in thousands on the Ohio highways for this single cause," Colonel Black stated.

He pointed out that the Highway Patrol was, by no means, contemplating a sporadic drive on speeders, but that his men have been ordered to increase the intensity of enforcement of the speed regulations on Ohio highways taking into consideration traffic, surface and width of the road, and any other existing conditions.

Policy Explained
The enforcement policy will be stern warnings to minor violators and prosecution for flagrant violations. This type of enforcement will be consistent to all motor vehicle operators. The Highway Patrol will not be guilty of establishing speed traps, as always, they will be plainly visible to moving traffic.

Maximum speed limits in Ohio are: twenty miles per hour when passing a school building or the grounds thereof during school recess and while children are going to or leaving school during the opening or closing hours; twenty miles per hour in the business or closely built-up portions of a municipal corporation; twenty-five miles per hour in all other portions of a municipal corporation, except on state routes and on main thoroughfares; thirty-five miles per hour on state route and main thoroughfares within municipalities outside business portions; forty-five miles per hour on highways outside of municipal corporations. Earnestly calling attention to the fact that we are approaching the summer months and the season of heavy traffic, Colonel Black cautions drivers to sacrifice haste and save waste of human suffering—death, injuries, wrecked cars, damaged property, arrests, fines and humiliation.

HEARSE REPLACES TRUCK

GERMAN SUPPLIES

Diplomats arriving here from Berlin tell a significant story of Germany's shortage of food and materials. Undoubtedly this had something to do with Hitler's decision to stake everything on victory this summer.

Returning officials report that "Ersatz" coffee is brewed from apple peelings.

The shortage is not only in food-stuffs but also in clothing, which is rationed to insure the supply for the armed forces. A woman may buy clothing only to the extent of 100 "points" in the course of a whole year. And a single pair of silk stockings rates 30 points.

The ration allowed on food cards is not too bad, but in many cases the food stocks run out and the shopper cannot buy even the amount allowed by the ration card.

More important from the military viewpoint is the report that German gasoline is of such poor quality that it befouls the motors and causes replacements.

In other words, the German war machine, cheered by the German people, is moving ahead with precision toward its conquests, but the big question in the minds of U. S. observers is — how long is the supply line?

Note—German people are forbidden to listen to foreign radio broadcasts, but in many German households at night you might see a strange looking mound covered by a bedspread—the family huddled together secretly near the radio, listening to broadcasts from overseas.

LOST LIBRARY

The favorite story of the President's at present is about a library that burned down in Georgia. Here's how he tells it to callers:

A Georgia politico called on him with a sorrowful plea to use his influence to get a WPA grant for a new library.

"What happened to the old one?" asked the President. "It was destroyed by fire," replied the visitor sadly. "And Mr. President, I fear for the literacy of my home folks if a new library isn't built quickly. No town should be without a library. It's a great cultural influence."

"Absolutely," agreed the President. "How long has your town been without a library?" "Seventy-six years!" "Seventy-six years?" "Yes, sir. Sherman burned it down."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Tourists are pouring in at the White House at the rate of 8,000 a day, of whom 7,000 see the private parlors by congressional letter. The others see only the East Room and ground floor. Aides expect this flow to reach a million by the end of August. . . . When Sumner Welles had no news one day at a State Department press conference, he apologized: "I'll try to do better by you tomorrow." . . . A tourist, after examining the Czech Legation inside and out, exclaimed, "Do you mean to say the German Government pays for all this?" The answer was an emphatic "No" from Czech Minister Hurban, who stood the Germans off when they tried to take the Legation last year. . . . At the end of 1937, TVA had 12,000 farm customers! At the end of 1939, 42,000.

Chapters Providing Aid For Chinese to Be Put On Map At World Fair

Circleville will be "on the map" in the World's Fair building of the American Bureau for Medical Aid to China, it is announced Thursday by Fred C. Clark, chairman of the Bureau Chapter in this city if contributions are made to the fund. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., national chairman of the Bureau, in a letter to Chapter heads announcing that the Bureau has taken over for 1940 the building which housed the Siam exhibit last year, disclosed that a huge wall map in the building will show the location of the 68 chapters of the Bureau throughout the United States, and as new chapters are formed, they will be added so that the map will be at all times an up-to-date record of the Bureau's growth. Persons contributing to the Chinese aid fund are asked to make clubs in the name of the Bureau. They will be forwarded by Mr. Clark.

"We hope that it will be possible for many groups from the Chapters to come to the Fair and visit our building," wrote Col. Roosevelt, "to see for themselves the scope of work which their gifts make it possible for us to do in China. Our exhibits will show graphically how the money is spent, from the time that purchases are made in New York City until they reach their destination at the Chinese Red Cross headquarters 10,000 miles away."

In addition to the exhibits picturing the work of the Bureau, there will be on display in the Bureau building Chinese and Tibetan museum pieces of great value, porcelains, paintings and curios centuries old, as well as modern Chinese art interpreting ancient motifs in modern materials. Chang Shan-tze, famous tiger painter, who recently sold a picture for $10,000, has cancelled plans to return to China and will appear for the duration of the Fair at the Bureau exhibit, where he will show the American public how the Chinese artist handles his painting tools and materials. From time to time the work of other modern Chinese artists will be displayed. Aside from exhibits, the Bureau will have booths in the building for the sale of American-made replicas of famous Chinese jewel designs, Chinese tea and other packaged delicacies imported from China. Chinatown's prettiest "glamour girls" will be on hand to help the visitor select his purchases.

BOWLS FOR BIRTHDAY

CONCORD, N. H.—Some people celebrate their birthdays by staging parties, taking airplane trips, spending the day with the family but George W. Parker is different. When the veteran bowler observed his 65th birthday, he rolled 65 strings in 3 1/2 hours. He totaled 6,533, better than 100 for each string.

Sales are hitting new highs...so Buick dealers are ready to make swell deals.

Wouldn't it be tragic if you missed it!

Buick prices begin at $895* for Business Coupe (Illustrated)

JUST suppose that down the street a dealer had an automobile so close to your heart's desire that it might have been made to your own specifications.

Suppose it had the room you've been wanting — the big, strapping size you'd like — the imposing style and good looks and soul-satisfying luxury of appointment.

Suppose it had all the life and zip and action you could ask for and a big, durable, thrifty power plant that could match even fine watch-works for smoothness.

Suppose you knew that car set the standard for real modernity and value—but just assumed that it must be out of your reach because it was so obviously good!

Wouldn't it be tragic if you passed up that honey — just because you didn't inquire what the prices actually were?

Here and there that's happening, we fear. Happening because people who want Buicks aren't getting the actual facts.

Maybe you didn't know that there are five 1940 Buicks at five different price ranges.

That every one of these has a big, husky, straight-eight engine electrically balanced after assembly by Buick's own exclusive process.

That soft, stout coil springs are found on every one — that every one has recoil-mounted Knee-Action, finger-flick transmission, bona fide Buick styling — features literally counted by the dozen.

Maybe you didn't know, above all, that for Buick SPECIAL models, current prices begin as low as $895 *for the business coupe, delivered at Flint. That even when you add transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), and optional equipment and accessories, delivered prices are the lowest ever on such value.

But all that's true. You can prove it any day by asking for a demonstration that costs nothing, and involves no obligation.

So why take a chance of missing something gorgeously great that could be yours for the trying? Do something, and do it now — go see your Buick dealer!

Police Car Has Traveled 86,000 Miles, Tires No Longer Safe

A bill for the purchase of a new police car was introduced in Council Wednesday night.

Safety Director Karl Herrmann told councilmen that he believed it would be cheaper to purchase a new automobile than to continue to buy repairs for the present police car.

He said that the present car had been driven more than 86,000 miles and that because of the tires, which have nearly 37,000 miles on them, the car was unsafe for fast driving.

BARBERS WOULD OPERATE UNDER HOUR SCHEDULE

O. Sam Hill, 210 South Court Street, placed before City Council Wednesday night a petition signed by all but two barbers in Circleville, asking that council pass legislation regulating opening and closing hours of city barber shops.

Hill told the councilmen that such regulations were in effect in other cities and that he believed it was in the best interests of Circleville barbers that similar ordinances be in effect here. He suggested that the hours during the week be from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. and on Saturdays from 8 a. m. until 10 p. m.

The proposal, submitted to the resolution committee together with the city solicitor, will be considered at the next council meeting.

STATE PATROL ACTS TO REDUCE TRAFFIC DEATHS

Black Explains Policy Of Highway Organization In Regard To Violations

WORD HASTE DISCUSSED

Chillicothe District Chief Releases Statement By Ohio Superintendent

A move by the State Highway Patrol, designed to cut down traffic accidents and warning persons who insist on breaking Ohio driving laws, was announced Thursday by Captain R. L. Galbreath of the Chillicothe office of the patrol. Circleville and Pickaway County are served by the Chillicothe district.

The patrol's policy is discussed in an article written by Colonel Lynn Black, superintendent of the patrol, and released by Captain Galbreath, who said: "Colonel Black's statement discusses our policy in enforcement of speed regulations."

Haste Important Word

The superintendent blames haste as the cause for the high death rate on Ohio's highways. Colonel Black appeals to all motor vehicle drivers to cooperate. "According to nationwide traffic accident experience," Colonel Black said, "nine out of every ten accidents for which the driver is to blame result from undue haste—haste to pass another car when it means taking a chance on being on the wrong side of the road in a tight squeeze; haste in going through the intersection when the other motorist was there first; haste on curves and hills; haste while traveling on the highway and not being able to cope with emergencies; haste on gravel roads, wet roads, and icy roads which results in going off the highway."

"Until drivers learn what speed limits mean, we must expect to count the dead in hundreds and the injured in thousands on the Ohio highways for this single cause," Colonel Black stated. He pointed out that the Highway Patrol was, by no means, contemplating a sporadic drive on speeders, but that his men have been ordered to increase the intensity of enforcement of the speed regulations on Ohio highways taking into consideration traffic, surface and width of the road, and any other existing conditions.

Policy Explained
The enforcement policy will be stern warnings to minor violators and prosecution for flagrant violations. This type of enforcement will be consistent to all motor vehicle operators. The Highway Patrol will not be guilty of establishing speed traps, as always, they will be plainly visible to moving traffic.

Maximum speed limits in Ohio are: twenty miles per hour when passing a school building or the grounds thereof during school recess and while children are going to or leaving school during the opening or closing hours; twenty miles per hour in the business or closely built-up portions of a municipal corporation; twenty-five miles per hour in all other portions of a municipal corporation, except on state routes and on main thoroughfares; thirty-five miles per hour on state route and main thoroughfares within municipalities outside business portions; forty-five miles per hour on highways outside of municipal corporations.

Earnestly calling attention to the fact that we are approaching the summer months and the season of heavy traffic, Colonel Black cautions drivers to sacrifice haste and save waste of human suffering—death, injuries, wrecked cars, damaged property, arrests, fines and humiliation.

COUNCIL VOTES ACCEPTANCE OF LAND FOR PARK

Elks Lodge Committee Puts
Playground Area In
Name Of City

BOARD TO BE CHOSEN

13 Acres Becomes Available
For Project; Resolution
Adopted

The 13-acre tract of land donated to the city of Circleville by the Elks Lodge soliciting committee was officially accepted by city council Wednesday night. The offer was made to council at its meeting May 1 by Harry Bartholomew, chairman of the soliciting committee, and William Radcliff, president of the Circleville Rotary Club, after the committee had purchased the land from the Voll heirs.

The operation of the park will be placed in the hands of a city park board consisting of five members. A copy of the resolution passed follows:

TO ACCEPT A GIFT TO THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO, OF A TRACT OF LAND TO BE USED FOR A PUBLIC PARK AND PLAYGROUND.

WHEREAS, the citizens of the City of Circleville, Ohio, have, by popular subscription, raised sufficient money with which to purchase a tract of land known as the "Voll property" and consisting of approximately thirteen (13) acres, more or less, and

WHEREAS, the said citizens of said City desire to have the title to said real estate transferred to the City of Circleville, Ohio, and that said real estate be dedicated as a public park and playground, and

WHEREAS, it is deemed to be the best interests of the citizens of said City that the gift of real estate be accepted by the said City to be used as a public park and playground, NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO:

Section 1. That the gift of 13 Acres of land, more or less, from the citizens of Circleville, Ohio, to the City of Circleville, Ohio, to be used for a public park and playground be accepted and that a transfer of title to the said City to be accepted.

Section 2. That this Resolution be in full force and effect from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

ADELPHI

On Thursday evening, May 9, the 20th Century Club entertained to a dinner party at Shady Corners, in Adelphi complimenting their Mothers in honor of Mother's Day.

At 7:30 they met, and found places at one large table, centered with red tulips and white lilies. At each place was a lovely shoulder corsage, to which the dainty place cards were attached.

The dinner which was most delicious consisted of tomato juice cocktail, hot rolls, butter and marmalade, fried chicken, mashed potatoes, gravy, creamed peas, green beans, cottage cheese, salad, celery, radishes, angel food cake, ice cream and coffee.

After dinner they were invited to the home of Mary Mahoney for a short Mother's Day program and the mothers and honor guests were presented with attractive gifts by Mrs. George H. Rihl. Several of the guests expressed the appreciation of the group for the evening's entertainment.

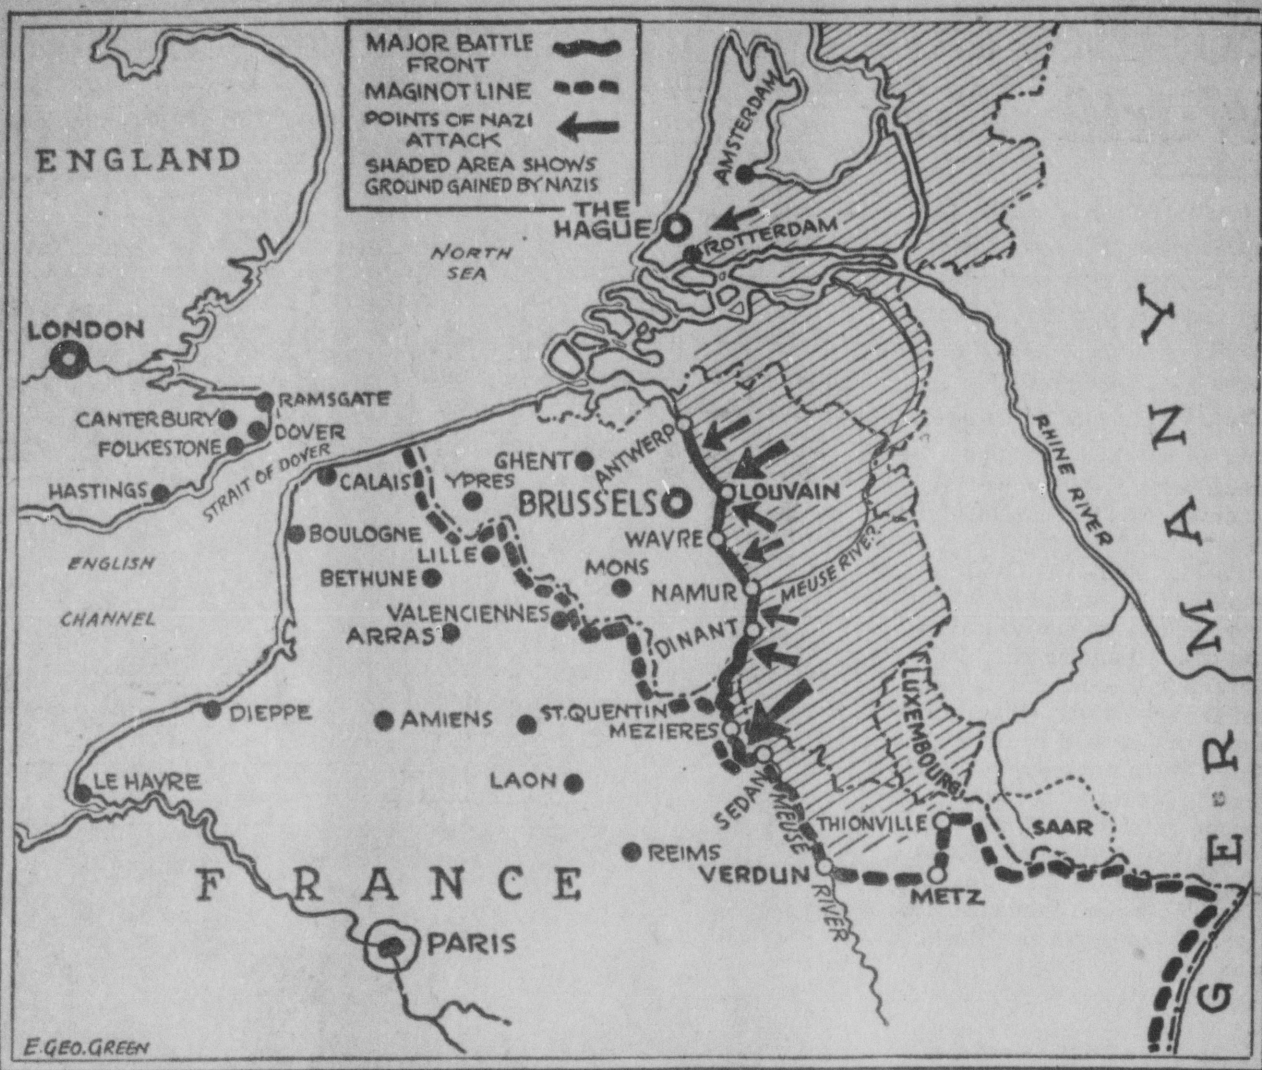

Those present were Mrs. J. P. Mahoney and mother Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. David B. Pontious and guest Mrs. C. B. Pontious, Mrs. Lee Bochart and mother Mrs. Clifford Roll, Mrs. Clarence Judy and mother Mrs. Homer Hedges, Miss Elva Hosler and guest Mrs. Margaret Goode, Mrs. Harold Minshall and mother Mrs. Elizabeth Barton, Mrs. Edgar DeLong and guest Mrs. Lillie McClelland and Mrs. George H. COUNCIL VOTES ACCEPTANCE OF LAND FOR PARK

Playground Area In
Name Of City

BOARD TO BE CHOSEN

13 Acres Becomes Available
For Project; Resolution
Adopted

The 13-acre tract of land donated to the city of Circleville by the Elks Lodge soliciting committee as a public park and playground was officially accepted by city council Wednesday night. The offer was made to council at its meeting May 1 by Harry Bartholomew, chairman of the soliciting committee, and William Radcliff, president of the Circleville Rotary Club, after the committee had purchased the land from the Voll heirs.

The operation of the park will be placed in the hands of a city park board consisting of five members. A copy of the resolution passed follows:

TO ACCEPT A GIFT TO THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO, OF A TRACT OF LAND TO BE USED FOR A PUBLIC PARK AND PLAYGROUND.

WHEREAS, the citizens of the City of Circleville, Ohio, have, by popular subscription, raised sufficient money with which to purchase a tract of land known as the "Voll property" and consisting of approximately thirteen (13) acres, more or less, and

WHEREAS, the said citizens of said City desire to have the title to said real estate transferred to the City of Circleville, Ohio, and that said real estate be dedicated as a public park and playground, and

WHEREAS, it is deemed to be the best interests of the citizens of said City that the gift of real estate be accepted by the said City to be used as a public park and playground, NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO:

Section 1. That the gift of 13 Acres of land, more or less, from the citizens of Circleville, Ohio, to the City of Circleville, Ohio, to be used for a public park and playground be accepted and that a transfer of title to the said City to be accepted.

Section 2. That this Resolution be in full force and effect from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

ADELPHI

On Thursday evening, May 9, the 20th Century Club entertained to a dinner party at Shady Corners, in Adelphi complimenting their Mothers in honor of Mother's Day.

At 7:30 they met, and found places at one large table, centered with red tulips and white lilies. At each place was a lovely shoulder corsage, to which the dainty place cards were attached.

The dinner which was most delicious consisted of tomato juice cocktail, hot rolls, butter and marmalade, fried chicken, mashed potatoes, gravy, creamed peas, green beans, cottage cheese, salad, celery, radishes, angel food cake, ice cream and coffee.

After dinner they were invited to the home of Mary Mahoney for a short Mother's Day program and the mothers and honor guests were presented with attractive gifts by Mrs. George H. Rihl. Several of the guests expressed the appreciation of the group for the evening's entertainment.

Those present were Mrs. J. P. Mahoney and mother Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. David B. Pontious and guest Mrs. C. B. Pontious, Mrs. Lee Bochart and mother Mrs. Clifford Roll, Mrs. Clarence Judy and mother Mrs. Homer Hedges, Miss Elva Hosler and guest Mrs. Margaret Goode, Mrs. Harold Minshall and mother Mrs. Elizabeth Barton, Mrs. Edgar DeLong and guest Mrs. Lillie McClelland and Mrs. George H. TWO-THIRDS OF OHIO CROP LAND SIGNED FOR AAA

Gain Of 8.7 Percent Noted By Kruse After Sign Up Date Is Passed

167,045 FARMS LISTED

Emphasis On Conservation Of Soil Brings Huge Hill Area In Fold

COLUMBUS, May 16—Approximately two-thirds of all Ohio farms will participate in the AAA program in 1940, Elmer F. Kruse, chairman of the Ohio AAA committee, announced today.

This is an increase of 8.7 percent as compared with the number of farms that participated in 1939. Total cropland included in the 167,045 farms in 1940 is 68.2 percent of all cropland acres in Ohio, a decline of 1.9 percent from the 1939 cropland participation, the chairman said.

Lawrence, Meigs, and Jackson Counties lead the state in both percent of farms and of cropland in the 1940 farm program. Lawrence County is first in percent of farms with 95.5 percent of all the farms in that county signed for participation. Meigs County follows closely with 94.9 percent, and Jackson County is third with 92.5 percent.

In Meigs County 96 percent of all the cropland will be farmed according to provisions of the AAA program. Lawrence County reports 95.6 percent, and Jackson follows closely in third place with 94.6 percent.

Increased emphasis on soil conservation during the sign-up period for 1940 which ended May 1, was the reason given by the chairman for the high participation in the hilly and rough agricultural region of southern Ohio. Farmers in this section of the state realize that much soil fertility already has left their land and they are taking immediate steps to stop the depletion.

"The more popular conservation practices carried out in this area are application of lime and phosphate in permanent pastures, seeding of legumes, and seeding of cover crops. Such conservation measures are needed to protect the soil on these farms, on many of which farmers would otherwise be unable to put them into use," Chairman Kruse pointed out. "They are an important aid to farmers in working out long-time soil-improvement and crop-rotation practices."

MUSKINGUM TAKES LEAD IN ANTI-WAR MOVEMENT

NEW CONCORD, O., May 16—Seven hundred Muskingum College students today started a state-wide organization movement among universities to form an "anti-war" group.

At a special meeting, the students declared their hatred for war and unanimously passed resolutions calling on the administration to keep America out of the present European conflict. The action was taken after one speaker told the students that Lloyds of London, had posted four to one odds that the United States would be in the war within 20 days.

JEWELL AT COUNCIL

Charles Jewell, who lives on the Lancaster Pike, protested before council Wednesday night that for the third time his cellar wall had been washed in because a sewer which runs past his property is not large enough to carry the water away. Councilmen Helvering, Gordon and Helwagen agreed to investigate the damage Thursday.

ASHVILLE LADY SAYS VENDOL BEATS ANYTHING SHE EVER SAW

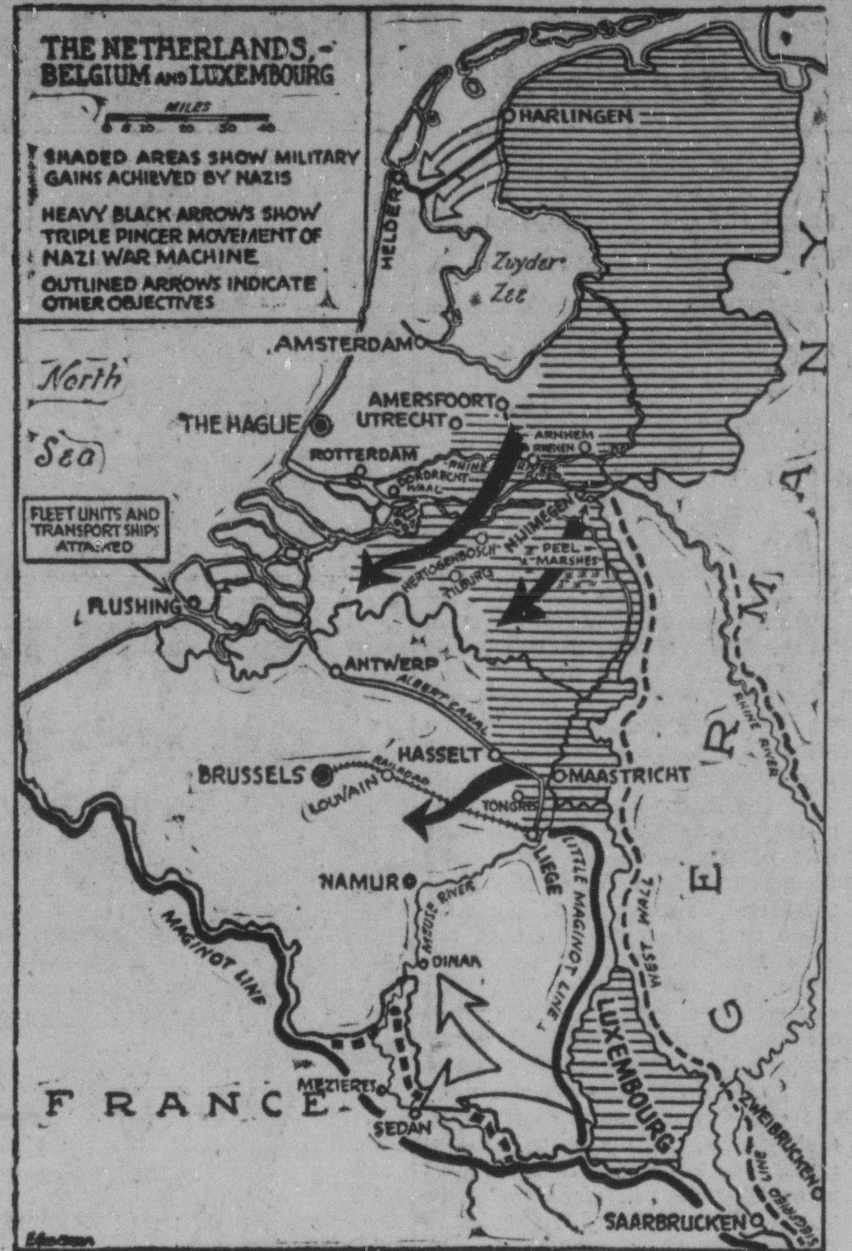

Declares famous medicine made a new and different person out of her. Tells experience to help others.

"A few bottles of Vendol have made a new and different woman out of me and I challenge anyone to feel more hale and hearty than I do," says Mrs. William Arnold, whose husband is the well known farmer living on route 2, Ashville, right near here.

"More words do not describe the suffering and discomfort I endured for years due to allowing myself to be constipated. This condition often caused jittery headaches and made me so nervous that I couldn't get a restful night's sleep. The least exertion seemed to sap all my strength and I couldn't perform my duties in the way I wanted to."

"Since taking Vendol and the little Vendol laxative tablets my improvement has been amazing. It first gave the most satisfying relief from constipation, and this seemed to relieve all symptoms and to calm the nervousness so

The Senior Class presented the play "Grandma Goes Hollywood" to a rather large crowd last Friday night. The receipts at the door were gratifying to the class. The play was under the direction of Miss DeMuth.

A small group of people from here attended the County Track Meet at New Holland last Saturday. Interest in the meet was almost lacking. The girls entered a number of events, but no boys participated.

The boys lost a softball game to Deer Creek last Friday at Williamsport. The seventh and eighth grade girls' and boys' teams won their games at Muhlenberg. The Muhlenberg teams will play return games here Wednesday at 11:00 o'clock.

The Juniors are at work for the Junior-Senior Banquet to be held here Friday night. A short program presented by local people will be followed by a program presented by a group of young people from Capital University. Dancing will follow the program.

Baccalaureate Services will be held in the local Methodist Church, Sunday, May 19, at 8:00 o'clock with the Rev. I. C. Wright, local pastor in charge. He will be assisted by Rev. Archie M. Lung, of Harrisburg.

The High School Commencement will be held Tuesday, May 21, at 8:15 in the school auditorium. The class address will be delivered by Rev. Harvey C. Hahn, Dayton, O., who is State Secretary of the Ohio Christian Endeavor Society, and his topic is "New Frontiers of Youth". The Salutatorian is Betty Creamer and the Valedictorian, Esther Gantz. The diplomas will be presented by Supt. McDowell. The response will be given by William Cox.

The Recognition Assembly will be held Monday afternoon at 1:30. The various awards will be made at this time and the Eighth Grade Certificates of Promotion will be presented.

A trip to the Columbus Zoo for the entire school has been planned for May 22, the last day of school. The trip will be made in the buses.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Education two new teachers were employed, Doris Hott, Darbyville, for the third grade and Henry Jackson Sheets, Crown Point, O., for the sixth grade. This completes the staff. John Stage was awarded a contract for transportation of pupils.

COLUMBUS MAYOR PLANS TO REDUCE PERSONNEL

COLUMBUS, May 16 — More permanent cuts in department personnel will be made in the next 30 days in an effort to place the operation of city services on a strict economy basis, Columbus mayor Floyd F. Green announced today.

Although there will be no pay cuts for those remaining in the employ of the city, Mayor Green warned there would be no salary increases. He added that police and fire department personnel would not be affected by the slashes.

"The Gentleman from Indiana"

OPPORTUNITY FOR STATESMEN

The editor of a fine little Indiana newspaper recently told me how he went through the depression. When advertising and subscribers fell off, he called in his men, sixty in number, from the oldest pressman to the youngest cub reporter. He said to them, "Boys, we have got to retrench to keep this paper alive. But we will all go up or down together. This paper is in the red, but I do not intend any one of you to see red. I will show my good faith by taking the biggest cut, both in dollars and percent."

Together they faced the music. Not a man deserted the paper, and the paper did not desert a man. The editor said to me, "If St. Peter ever pins any medal on my bosom, it will be because all through the depression every man in my employ found something in his pay envelope every Saturday."

That man did more to save the Constitution than all the editorials he might have written in PETTENGILL's honor and glory after he had fired half his men.

Thousands of such men made similar sacrifices to keep the men employed, and they equally "deserve well of the Republic." Others had the desire to do so, but were forced to shut down by circumstances beyond their control. I am ready to go to bat for that kind of business man.

To accomplish this, tools may be necessary. But the spirit must come first. What is desperately needed right now is the spirit and the will for fair dealing between capital and labor, labor and labor, industry and government.

With this, plus our technology, invention and power, nothing is impossible. Without it anything is possible. Yes, anything—it can happen—here!!

We must be cold sober about this question. If looking from our windows we saw nothing but the Jamestown of 1607, or Plymouth Rock of 1620, the wilderness, forests to clear, stumps to pull, logskid roads, whale oil lights, greased paper windows, poor tools, poor seed, sour soil, the power of oxen and human backs, distant markets—we would accept, and thankfully, as our forefathers did, the meager fruits of our toil. Our fathers never saw poverty in the midst of plenty.

What they saw is not what we see. We see science, technology, to tax the worker to enrich the shirker, to plunder savings to give to the shiftless, is no better than a poisoner of wells.

Can we regain freedom and the opportunity which freedom gives, not as a primitive right in the wilderness, but as a civilized achievement? We must believe that we can.

We must move as Jefferson would towards diversification and decentralization political, economic, industrial, and financial. We must revitalize democracy at the rim to prevent its rotting at the center. We must send sap to the leaf in order to preserve life in the trunk. We must recognize centralization for what it is in truth—a reactionary movement, a Tory philosophy, and the negation of democracy. This is the problem and this is the opportunity for Statesmen in Industry, and Statesmen in Labor, to solve by common counsel.

Why I Sell GAS REFRIGERATORS

By Your GAS COMPANY SALESMAN

PERHAPS it is because I'm so completely sold on gas refrigeration myself that I have been successful in selling it to others. Gas refrigeration, in my opinion, is one of the greatest developments in the modern home appliance field. The gas refrigerator, as it is made today, has all the advantages of modern automatic refrigeration plus an operating principle which is entirely different. This difference is what places the gas refrigerator ahead of all others.

There are no moving parts in the freezing system of a gas refrigerator. Instead, the refrigerant is circulated by a tiny gas flame. You don't have to be an engineer to understand the big advantage of such a principle. Since there is nothing to wear out, lasting efficiency is assured. This means low upkeep and continued low operating cost—to say nothing of permanent silence. To top this off, The Gas Company now is backing the 1940 Servel Electrolux gas refrigerator with a ten-year unconditional guarantee on the complete refrigerating system—full assurance to the customer of no expense on any part of the freezing unit for at least 10 years.

In addition to it being the best buy on the market today, there is still another reason why I sell the gas refrigerator. Like everybody else, I'm interested in making the best living I can. The ever increasing public acceptance of the gas refrigerator has added to the possibilities of my earnings from its sale. And believe me, the customer is getting greater value for his money today than ever before, because prices this year are lowest in Servel history.

Now that I've told you why I sell gas refrigerators, I'd like to have the opportunity of showing you why you should buy one.

Who Is He?

What kind of a fellow is the average Gas Company salesman? Our records show that he is 37 years of age and that he has been with the company about 3 years. These records further reveal that over 86% of all Gas Company salesmen are married, that a great many of them own their homes. Gas Company salesmen are substantial citizens of their communities. Get acquainted with the Gas Company salesman in your locality. You'll find him a person worth knowing.

TWO-THIRDS OF OHIO CROP LAND SIGNED FOR AAA

Gain Of 8.7 Percent Noted By Kruse After Sign Up Date Is Passed

167,045 FARMS LISTED

Emphasis On Conservation Of Soil Brings Huge Hill Area In Fold

COLUMBUS, May 16—Approximately two-thirds of all Ohio farms will participate in the AAA program in 1940, Elmer F. Kruse, chairman of the Ohio AAA committee, announced today.

This is an increase of 8.7 percent as compared with the number of farms that participated in 1939. Total cropland included in the 167,045 farms in 1940 is 68.2 percent of all cropland acres in Ohio, a decline of 1.9 percent from the 1939 cropland participation, the chairman said.

Lawrence, Meigs, and Jackson Counties lead the state in both percent of farms and of cropland in the 1940 farm program. Lawrence County is first in percent of farms with 95.5 percent of all the farms in that county signed for participation. Meigs County follows closely with 94.9 percent, and Jackson County is third with 92.5 percent.

In Meigs County 96 percent of all the cropland will be farmed according to provisions of the AAA program. Lawrence County reports 95.6 percent, and Jackson follows closely in third place with 94.6 percent.

Increased emphasis on soil conservation during the sign-up period for 1940 which ended May 1, was the reason given by the chairman for the high participation in the hilly and rough agricultural region of southern Ohio. Farmers in this section of the state realize that much soil fertility already has left their land and they are taking immediate steps to stop the depletion.

"The more popular conservation practices carried out in this area are application of lime and phosphate in permanent pastures, seeding of legumes, and seeding of cover crops. Such conservation measures are needed to protect the soil on these farms, on many of which farmers would otherwise be unable to put them into use," Chairman Kruse pointed out. "They are an important aid to farmers in working out long-time soil-improvement and crop-rotation practices."

MUSKINGUM TAKES LEAD IN ANTI-WAR MOVEMENT

NEW CONCORD, O., May 16—Seven hundred Muskingum College students today started a state-wide organization movement among universities to form an "anti-war" group.

At a special meeting, the students declared their hatred for war and unanimously passed resolutions calling on the administration to keep America out of the present European conflict. The action was taken after one speaker told the students that Lloyd's of London, had posted four to one odds that the United States would be in the war within 20 days.

power; the forces of nature harnessed to the service of man; a thousand, a million horsepower where Captain John Smith or William Bradford saw a single horse. Our people won't accept the paradox of poverty in the midst of potential plenty. "Broad lines standing knee-deep in wheat," present a question which they think, and think rightly, our statesmen in government and our statesmen in labor and industry must solve.

This is no time for demagogues and rabble-rousers. Except to attempt to prevent their being exploited, no system of government, no set of politicians, can do very much for the drunkards, the shiftless, the ne'er-do-wells, the gullible buyers of gold bricks.

But those, who by honest toil, thrift, sobriety, sacrifice, careful living, or by inventive and business genius, have earned and saved a few thousand dollars, or a million dollars, with which they have built factories or which they have loaned to those who need it, do not deserve to be held up to contempt as "princes of privilege." I am not speaking of the buccaneers of business. I am speaking of those who have accumulated something as a reward of useful work by hand or brain. On the other hand, we gain nothing by describing everybody with holes in his shoes as a sort of civic hero who should be permanently pensioned as an underprivileged patriot.

A political leader who promises to tax the worker to enrich the shirker, to plunder savings to give to the shiftless, is no better than a poisoner of wells.

MOTHER EUROPE

"WHILE democracy in Europe is fighting in the last ditch," laments Bishop Arthur J. Moore of the Methodist Church, "here in the United States we go on with our golf and bridge."

Yes, we do. And no doubt there are many Americans who regard the vast struggle across the Atlantic as none of our business, and harden their hearts, and say: "Well, if the Old World wants to go to hell in a handcart, all right—we'll mind our own business and go our own way and keep out of the mess."

There are probably more, though, who while just as eager to "keep out of the mess," do their best to understand what is going on over there. They want to know what are the causes of that great eruption, and what it may lead to, and what the chances are of settling it before the continent from which we have sprung and derived our civilization is wrecked.

We are still bound to Europe by a thousand ties. We should still be grateful for what it has given us and should still try to do what we can, by peaceful methods, to help our Mother Europe in her distress.

KIDS AND STREETS

TALK about feminine intuition! An innovation is reported from England that is a stroke of genius. It's about kids and dirt and what to do about it.

It happened on Vernon Street at Barrow-in-Furness, wherever that may be. Forty mothers had struggled for years to keep their boys and girls clean. It was a never-ending job. Finally one inspired mother surveyed the situation and did some thinking about it.

The children were dirty, she decided, because the street was dirty. If the streets were clean, faces and hands would be clean—or at least a great deal cleaner—and the trousers and dresses would be a much easier job. So she called a conference. The mothers talked it over and decided to tackle the job at the bottom. They cleaned the street, and have continued ever since, scrubbing the pavements instead of the kids, and washing down the walks until you could eat on them, and it works like magic. Those are the cleanest children in town.

American mothers might take a hint from this story. But they wouldn't work out the problem in quite the same way. They'd make the town authorities clean the street.

"You must get accustomed to my silence," the Duke told his people. That is no hardship to the rest of the world, anyway. Now if Hitler, Goebbels & Co. would only follow suit!

Blessed is the man who can do his drilling behind a lawn mower, in peace, instead of toting a gun.

The "darkness of Egypt" is real now—they've ordered blackouts.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE... Hour by Hour

Pages from the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:
Up at the usual hour and finding the usual German victory headlines in the prints. What a mess Europe is in, and what a mess we will be in one day unless we do some preparing for inevitable. Natives of Poland, Finland, Norway, Holland, Belgium, England, France all love their countries as well as we do. They are as brave and as good fighters as we are. Look at their situation.

I have no patience with the man who insists that one American can lick a dozen men of any other nationality. The man who makes such a claim has never done anything more strenuous than wave a flag or shout at a wrestling match. Men are pretty much alike the world over. Some are weak, some are strong. The man best equipped for the job of fighting wins. That always is true. And we are not equipped for modern warfare.

When we started manufacturing planes and other munitions for the Allies I believed that we were making a mistake, that we should be producing them for ourselves. That opinion has not been altered. I do not object to selling surplus munitions to the Allies, but believe that the sales should be of surplus alone.

The dinky force that we call our air arm probably would last a good half hour in Europe today. It is not large enough. Many immediate steps should be taken for its bolstering. We have in this land enough young men who are interested in aviation. Why not make aviators of them? Why not teach them to defend our nation while time remains to do so, instead of waiting until the last minute and then sending them into the air to meet practically certain death?

War! War! War! One reads little else, hears little else. We would grow tired of the sameness were it not for the danger that faces us. We just can not shrug off war. These days it comes unexpectedly and the losers really are not losers. The losers of this war will be nothing like the Germany that sued for peace back in 1918. There will be no winner.

There goes Ben Gordon who is so busy these days that he has to inspect the construction of his new home by flashlight at night. Consider that incident and compare it with the condition of business men and home owners in Europe today.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

ATTACK ON BRITAIN DUE
WASHINGTON—When Sumner Welles was in Berlin on his peace pilgrimage, the Hitler entourage told him flatly that if Britain wanted to continue the war, Germany was ready to lose 9,000 planes—if necessary—in raining the greatest barrage of bombs in history on England.

This gives the key to the present German drive to the sea through the Low Countries. What Hitler wants in Holland is air bases closer to England. With Dutch air bases, plus new submarine bases in Norway, the Nazis plan to put the greatest squeeze in history on England, subject her to a terrific air bombardment, and land invading forces for the first time since the triumphal march of William the Conqueror in 1066.

The military strategy of the Nazis is the old Schlieffen plan used by the Kaiser's troops in the last war. Briefly summarized, the plan is: Outflank, Develop, Destroy.

To this, the Nazis have added some streamlining of their own, namely the "locusts" or parachute troops, whose objective is to get into the enemy's radio and telegraph offices, disrupt communications, and cause as much confusion as possible behind the line.

FIFTH COLUMN

Confusion also has been created by Nazi agents sent to Holland in advance. The Dutch Government had realized the presence of these spies and done its best to detect them. Many of them were dressed in the uniform of Dutch soldiers, and in order to spot that, sudden and secret orders were issued such as: "Between 2 p. m. and 5 p. m. no soldier shall salute an officer."

Then all soldiers who saluted officers were arrested. Some were found to be men who saluted from force of habit, but some were found to be Nazi agents, who naturally had no access to sudden army orders.

The Dutch army even changed its uniform frequently during recent months, in order to prevent the Germans from copying it wholesale for Nazi agents.

ROOSEVELT'S CALLERS

A deep wrinkle furrowed the brow of General Edwin (Pa) Watson, genial White House secretary, as he eyed the long line of callers waiting their turn to see the President. It was 12 o'clock, and the President was scheduled to receive Secretary Hull and Under Secretary Welles at 1 p. m. for an important luncheon.

Watson's eye shifted nervously from the clock to Representative Joe Casey, good looking young Massachusetts Democrat, who was to go in next.

"How long will you take, Joe?" asked Watson. "Will ten minutes be enough?" "I guess so. You know, all we are allowed in the House is five minutes."

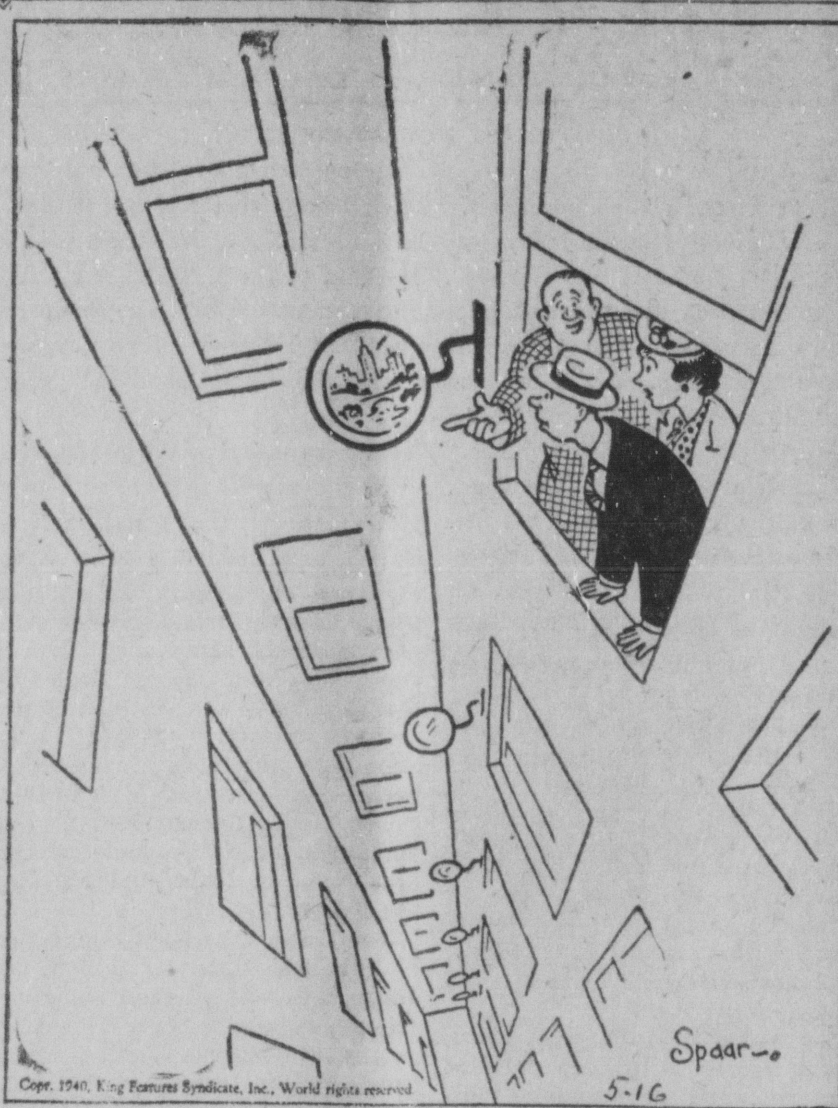

"Can you tell your story in that time?" "Well, that all depends, General," replied Casey. "You see, in the House, while our speeches are limited to five minutes we don't have to yield to anyone. But with the President it's different. He

You are not interested merely in reaching the game, small slam or grand slam safely, but want to be in the suit or No Trump which will produce a few more points than some other choice. The few extra points may mean that you win the deal from your rivals, whereas in rubber bridge you look for a slight bit greater safety at the cost of giving up a few points, if necessary, because of the rank of declarations.

Looking Back in Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Allan Jordan, Columbus, secretary of the Scioto-Sandusky conservancy district, spoke enthusiastically of the outlook for the project when Circleville Chamber of Commerce representatives met him in Columbus.

Miss Ann Bennett, Miss Marian Hitler and Miss Eleanor Ryan were planning a summer trip to Europe. Miss Bennett was to leave June 18 with Miss Jane Brown of Chillicothe and Miss Marguerite Carlin of Columbus. Miss Hitler and Miss Ryan were to sail in July.

10 YEARS AGO

Mrs. George Snider of South Court Street was the guest of her son, Edward, at a Mother's Day banquet given by the Phi Beta Kappa Fraternity, Ohio State University.

Jay Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt C. Smith, arrived in town as the champion reserved seat ticket seller with the Robins Bros. circus, his summer job.

The new all-cable underground long-distance telephone route from Columbus to Circleville to Canal Winchester was completed.

25 YEARS AGO

Marvin Steele, 15, representing the centralized schools of Pickaway Township, won the honor of representing the county at the state spelling match to be held in Memorial Hall, Columbus, June 4.

the recent Vanderbilt Cup national championship tournament.

Mr. Belnecke's 3-Hearts bid was safer, following his opening pass, than 2-Hearts, which might be passed when it looked as if a game was certain. Mr. Malowan's 3-Spades was meant to show the A only, as a cue bid, and ask for his partner's lowest A, which was shown with the 4-Clubs. The Blackwood convention then asked how many aces North had all told, and when he showed just one with 5-Diamonds Mr. Malowan knew the opponents held the diamond A.

The 5-No Trumps question about kings brought the response that only one was held, so 6-Hearts was safer than the 6-No Trumps that would have been bid if Mr. Belnecke had been able to show two aces.

CHAPTER TWELVE
NOW IT IS true that newspaper folk are somewhat peculiar, and so can have their ears to the ground even while walking on it. That Mrs. Molly Van Orsdale should have heard immediately, therefore, of the Merrifield party was merely a journalistic miracle; Mrs. Molly was society editor of The Evening Gazette.

In the first place, it was prime society news that anything—any sort of party whatsoever—should be given in The Oaks, Merrifield mansion. Nothing had happened there in so many years that not even Mrs. Molly could remember when, and Mrs. Molly had been around for a long time. The Oaks was simply a monumental showplace, a magnificent estate to point out to your relatives who came to the city from some distant home, and wanted to see your millionaires' row. Therefore, Mrs. Molly—plain Molly if you were "in" with people there—trotted right in to the office of the publisher himself.

"Ed," she stood on no ceremony with her boss, "whatever is happening out at Merrifield's? The old man's? I hear rumors of a party!"

The publisher dropped more important work to give attention.

"I know nothing, Molly. But for gosh sakes get on it. Let me know at once, eh?"

She did what any intelligent reporter will do—went direct to the main source of information, via telephone.

"I am very sorry, Mrs. Orsdale," old Mr. Merrifield said, "but I can not tell you about it. You will have to ask my social secretary."

"Your social se— Ah, yes. Yes, indeed! Um. And—" Mrs. Molly had swallowed. A social secretary at The Oaks!

"She is Miss Gayle Dixon, a charming person, madam. Unfortunately, she is out at the moment. Shall I have her call?"

"By all means! No—wait, Mr. Merrifield, I'll come out!"

She would have chartered a taxicab at once for that mission, but sometimes are leisurely. Mrs. Molly took the city editor's car, drove it illegally fast. She not only wanted to get to this Miss Dixon immediately for her own interests, she also wanted to scoop The Herald, The Press and The Chronicle-Post.

She found Gayle without difficulty this time, and charmed that young lady into answering all her questions. Nor was it a difficult interview. When it was done, Mrs. Molly grasped Gayle's hand and said quite sincerely, "Honey, you are a darling person. I hope we may become good friends."

Twenty-four hours later, the various social sets of the city had but one topic of conversation; The Oaks, venerable and famous mansion in Montrose Manor, would be re-opened next Tuesday.

That significant news was extremely important to the wealthy playboy of the community. In the cocktail lounges, in the bridge clubs, on the badminton and tennis courts and even on the golf greens and polo fields, men and women paused to talk about it. It was no secret that old Ben Merrifield owned half of that distant state, Arizona, and could buy the other half if he wanted it. He was known as an eccentric philanthropist, likely to blow in a fabulous sum on any kind of a dinner dance.

"They say it's to be informal," somebody remarked. "Extraordinary!"

"They say it will be elaborate . . . a new Miss Dixon . . . redecorating the . . . never been in the place, but they say . . . 40- piece orchestra . . . a thousand orchids alone and . . . Jeremy is his first name and he . . . no, a grandson and heir . . . not exactly engaged, I understand, but . . . oh, 20 years at least . . . They say he is . . . they say the old gentleman wanted to present . . .

They say, they say, they say. Clear, concise coverage of the few established facts were printed first in The Gazette (to Mrs. Molly's delight) and the other papers were forced to follow at once. There had been no photographs as yet, but the three Sunday morning papers would have the story in pictures on society section fronts. The short interim until Sunday was a period of choicest gossip.

A great deal of the gossip centered immediately on "who will be there." That question, either by innuendo or direct interrogation, was on everybody's lips in the upper class society. Astonishingly, there seemed to be no affirmative answers.

Finally one of the town gossips just broke down and voiced the feeling of all. This was at a rather alcoholic function on Saturday evening.

"It's practically Tuesday now," she complained to a group of henchmen, male and female. "And if none of us has been invited, whoever has? I mean, well, after all, it's the Merrifields'. They are quite, uh—well, you know, distinguished. You know."

All her listeners knew exactly what she meant—that the Merrifield fortune was simply too imposing to be treated haughtily, and that the socially elite of the city was anxious to go to any sort of function that might be presented there. A Mr. Cholly Farrington overheard this and other conversation, and got back to The Sunday Circleville-Post office in time enough to include the essence of it in his widely-read chit-chat column.

"High hat society is biting its teeth and gnashing its nails in a frenzy of omission," his column read. "Somebody—who is this Miss Dixon, my dear?—has neglected to invite it to The Oaks next Tuesday. Ha, when high hat bites high hat, that's news! The bitten group is howling, whining. Tuesday is a scant two days off. Will Monday's mail be loaded with invitations, or will there be telephone y'all-drop-in-tomorrow-nights? It's all most irregular! Most!"

Gayle Dixon and Bill Bailey, who had been busy young people of late, had found no time at all to read the newspapers for the last few days, and so did not understand it when little Tempe Hyde read the paragraph Sunday and called Gayle on the telephone.

"I'm afraid it's just something

Gayle was beaming now. "You're wonderful, Bill!" she cried, turning to go. "I was about to say the same thing about you."

But he knew she had spoken lightly, carelessly, whereas his tribute came from the heart.

MOTHER EUROPE

"WHILE democracy in Europe is fighting in the last ditch," laments Bishop Arthur J. Moore of the Methodist Church, "here in the United States we go on with our golf and bridge."

Yes, we do. And no doubt there are many Americans who regard the vast struggle across the Atlantic as none of our business, and harden their hearts, and say: "Well, if the Old World wants to go to hell in a handcart, all right—we'll mind our own business and go our own way and keep out of the mess."

There are probably more, though, who while just as eager to "keep out of the mess," do their best to understand what is going on over there. They want to know what are the causes of that great eruption, and what it may lead to, and what the chances are of settling it before the continent from which we have sprung and derived our civilization is wrecked.

We are still bound to Europe by a thousand ties. We should still be grateful for what it has given us and should still try to do what we can, by peaceful methods, to help our Mother Europe in her distress.

KIDS AND STREETS

TALK about feminine intuition! An innovation is reported from England that is a stroke of genius. It's about kids and dirt and what to do about it.

It happened on Vernon Street at Barrow-in-Furness, wherever that may be. Forty mothers had struggled for years to keep their boys and girls clean. It was a never-ending job. Finally one inspired mother surveyed the situation and did some thinking about it.

The children were dirty, she decided, because the street was dirty. If the streets were clean, faces and hands would be clean—or at least a great deal cleaner—and the trousers and dresses would be a much easier job. So she called a conference. The mothers talked it over and decided to tackle the job at the bottom. They cleaned the street, and have continued ever since, scrubbing the pavements instead of the kids, and washing down the walks until you could eat on them, and it works like magic. Those are the cleanest children in town.

American mothers might take a hint from this story. But they wouldn't work out the problem in quite the same way. They'd make the town authorities clean the street.

"You must get accustomed to my silence," the Duke told his people. That is no hardship to the rest of the world, anyway. Now if Hitler, Goebbels & Co. would only follow suit!

Blessed is the man who can do his drilling behind a lawn mower, in peace, instead of toting a gun.

The "darkness of Egypt" is real now—they've ordered blackouts.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE... Hour by Hour

Pages From the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Up at the usual hour and finding the usual German victory headlines in the prints. What a mess Europe is in, and what a mess we will be in one day unless we do some preparing for inevitable. Natives of Poland, Finland, Norway, Holland, Belgium, England, France all love their countries as well as we do. They are as brave and as good fighters as we are. Look at their situation.

I have no patience with the man who insists that one American can lick a dozen men of any other nationality. The man who makes such a claim has never done anything more strenuous than wave a flag or shout at a wrestling match. Men are pretty much alike the world over. Some are weak, some are strong. The man best equipped for the job of fighting wins. That always is true. And we are not equipped for modern warfare.

When we started manufacturing planes and other munitions for the Allies I believed that we were making a mistake, that we should be producing them for ourselves. That opinion has not been altered. I do not object to selling surplus munitions to the Allies, but believe that the sales should be of surplus alone.

The dinky force that we call our air arm probably would last a good half hour in Europe today. It is not large enough. Many immediate steps should be taken for its bolstering. We have in this land enough young men who are interested in aviation. Why not make aviators of them? Why not teach them to defend our nation while time remains to do so, instead of waiting until the last minute and then sending them into the air to meet practically certain death?

War! War! War! One reads little else, hears little else. We would grow tired of the sameness were it not for the danger that faces us. We just can not shrug off war. These days it comes unexpectedly and the losers really are not losers. The losers of this war will be nothing like the Germany that sued for peace back in 1918. There will be no winner.

There goes Ben Gordon who is so busy these days that he has to inspect the construction of his new home by flashlight at night. Consider that incident and compare it with the condition of business men and home owners in Europe today.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

ATTACK ON BRITAIN DUE

WASHINGTON—When Sumner Welles was in Berlin on his peace pilgrimage, the Hitler entourage told him flatly that if Britain wanted to continue the war, Germany was ready to lose 9,000 planes—if necessary—in raining the greatest barrage of bombs in history on England.

This gives the key to the present German drive to the sea through the Low Countries. What Hitler wants in Holland is air bases closer to England. With Dutch air bases, plus new submarine bases in Norway, the Nazis plan to put the greatest squeeze in history on England, subject her to a terrific air bombardment, and land invading forces for the first time since the triumphal march of William the Conqueror in 1066.

The military strategy of the Nazis is the old Schlieffen plan used by the Kaiser's troops in the last war. Briefly summarized, the plan is: Outflank, Develop, Destroy.

To this, the Nazis have added some streamlining of their own, namely the "locusts" or parachute troops, whose objective is to get into the enemy's radio and telegraph offices, disrupt communications, and cause as much confusion as possible behind the line.

FIFTH COLUMN

Confusion also has been created by Nazi agents sent to Holland in advance. The Dutch Government had realized the presence of these spies and done its best to detect them. Many of them were dressed in the uniform of Dutch soldiers, and in order to spot that, sudden and secret orders were issued such as: "Between 2 p. m. and 5 p. m. no soldier shall salute an officer."

Then all soldiers who saluted officers were arrested. Some were found to be men who saluted from force of habit, but some were found to be Nazi agents, who naturally had no access to sudden army orders.

The Dutch army even changed its uniform frequently during recent months, in order to prevent the Germans from copying it wholesale for Nazi agents.

ROOSEVELT'S CALLERS

A deep wrinkle furrowed the brow of General Edwin (Pa) Watson, genial White House secretary, as he eyed the long line of callers waiting their turn to see the President. It was 12 o'clock, and the President was scheduled to receive Secretary Hull and Under Secretary Welles at 1 p. m. for an important luncheon.

Watson's eye shifted nervously from the clock to Representative Joe Casey, good looking young Massachusetts Democrat, who was to go in next.

"How long will you take, Joe?" asked Watson. "Will ten minutes be enough?"

"I guess so. You know, all we are allowed in the House is five minutes."

"Can you tell your story in that time?"

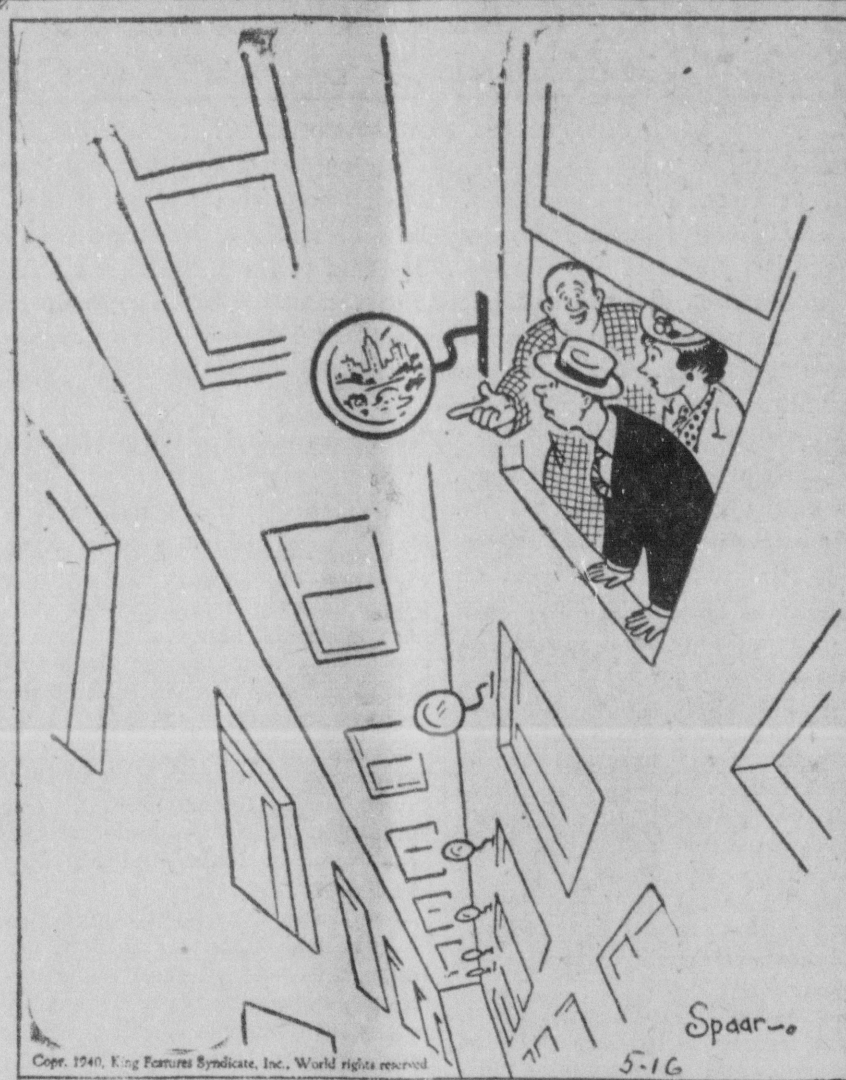

"Well, that all depends, General," replied Casey. "You see, in the House, while our speeches are limited to five minutes we don't have to yield to anyone. But with the President it's different. He

CONTRACT BRIDGE

THE VERY BEST SPOT

IN DUPLICATE play, you attach much greater importance than in rubber bridge to finding the contract which will produce the maximum number of points for your side. You are not interested merely in reaching the game, small slam or grand slam safely, but want to be in the suit or No Trump which will produce a few more points than some other choice. The few extra points may mean that you win the deal from your rivals, whereas in rubber bridge you look for a slight bit greater safety at the cost of giving up a few points, if necessary, because of the rank of declarations.

All her listeners knew exactly what she meant—that the Merrifield fortune was simply too imposing to be treated lightly, and that the socially elite of the city was anxious to go to any sort of function that might be presented there. A Mr. Cholly Farrington overheard this and other conversation, and got back to The Sunday Chronicle-Post office in time enough to include the essence of it in his widely-read chit-chat column.

"High hat society is biting its teeth and gnashing its nails in a frenzy of omission," his column read. "Somebody—who IS this Miss Dixon, my dear?—has neglected to invite it to The Oaks next Tuesday. Ha, when high hat bites high hat, that's news! The bitten group is howling, whining. Tuesday is a scant two days off. Will Monday's mail be loaded with invitations, or will there be telephone you-all-drop-in-tomorrow-nights? It's all most irregular! Most!"

Gayle Dixon and Bill Bailey, who had been busy young people of late, had found no time at all to read the newspapers for the last few days, and so did not understand it when little Tempe Hyde read the paragraph Sunday and called Gayle on the telephone.

"I'm afraid it's just something

but . . . oh, 20 years at least . . . They say he is . . . they say the old gentleman wanted to present . . ."

They say, they say, they say. Clear, concise coverage of the few established facts were printed first in The Gazette (to Mrs. Molly's delight) and the other papers were forced to follow at once. There had been no photographs as yet, but the three Sunday morning papers would have the story in pictures on society section fronts. The short interim until Sunday was a period of choicest gossip.

A great deal of the gossip centered immediately on "who will be there." That question, either by innuendo or direct interrogation, was on everybody's lips in the upper class society. Astonishingly, there seemed to be no affirmative answers.

Finally one of the town gossips just broke down and voiced the feeling of all. This was at a rather alcoholic function on Saturday evening.

"It's practically Tuesday now," she complained to a group of henchmen, male and female. "And if none of us has been invited, whoever has? I mean, well, after all, it's the Merrifields. They are quite, uh—well, you know, distinguished. You know."

They knew.

Baha'i Group Lecture

"World Peace and the Story of Religion" was the topic discussed Wednesday when Mrs. Dorothy Baker of Lima gave a public address in the Library Trustees' room, Memorial Hall. Mrs. Baker is vice chairman of the National Spiritual Assembly of Baha'is of the United States and Canada. Mrs. J. O. Eagleson, chairman of the Circleville Baha'i group which sponsored the lecture, presided.

Mrs. Baker in opening her address said: "Future civilization is like a great wheel: education and the knowledge of God is its hub and various spokes are the oneness of mankind, the foundation of all religions and independent investigation of all truths. Religion must be the cause of unity, and be in accord with science, equality of men and women, elimination of all prejudice, a universal education for all, a spiritual solution of economic problems, a universal language and an international tribunal. Then and only then, can peace be established, and God's Kingdom come on earth.

"The same God made the material laws, that made the spiritual laws, hence the harmony of science and religion."

Mrs. Baker gave the Golden Rule of the nine religions which she said are basically alike with the superstitions of each removed.

Graphically she outlined the lives and teachings of the prophets of God, Abraham and Moses. She spoke of the coming and crucifixion of Christ, saying that in three short years He gave the world a reality that was spread over mankind for 2,000 years.

In closing her resume, Mrs. Baker quoted from Baha'i teachings, "Ye are leaves of one tree, drops of one sea."

The speaker conducted an open forum for the audience at the close of her talk. "How to Pray", "Immortality" and "World Conditions" were some of the topics discussed. Mrs. Baker said "Mankind is on the verge of one of the most outstanding spiritual re-births since time began; when humanity suffers, she always looks to her Creator. The last two decades have made humanity view this world from the standpoint of unity, the next two will bring even more startling results."

Miss Bernice Brigner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Brigner of Jackson Township, and Mr. Woodrow Fortner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fortner of Salt Creek Township were united in marriage Wednesday at 11 a. m., the quiet, but impressive ceremony being performed by the Rev. W. B. Hill of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church of Columbus. Members of the immediate families were present for the service which was in the living room of the church parsonage.

Masses of vari-colored spring flowers decorated the room for the wedding.

Miss Minnie Brigner, sister of the bride, and Miss Maxine Fortner, sister of the bridegroom were bridesmaids. Mr. Harold Horn of Salt Creek Township served as best man.

For her wedding, the bride chose a frock of medium blue crepe trimmed in dusty rose with which she wore white accessories. Her attendants, Miss Brigner in lavender crepe and Miss Fortner in dusty rose lace, complemented their frocks with white accessories.

After the ceremony, an informal reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Goldfrederick of Columbus. Mrs. Goldfrederick is an aunt of the bridegroom.

The guests were seated at a long table set in the dining room for the lunch served at high noon. Bowls of lovely spring flowers centered the table.

Those served were the new Mr. and Mrs. Fortner, Mrs. James Brigner, Miss Brigner of Jackson Township; Mrs. Arthur Fortner, Mr. Donald Fortner, Mr. Paul Fortner, Miss Fortner, Mr. Horn, Mr. James Weetsee of near Laurelville; Mrs. Ernest Borders, Mrs. Zola Olson of Reynoldsburg; Mr. Edward Fortner, Mr. and Mrs. Goldfrederick of Columbus.

The former Miss Brigner is a graduate of Jackson Township High School in the class of 1939. Mr. Fortner graduated in 1936 from Salt Creek Township High School. He and his bride will make their home in Jackson Township where Mr. Fortner is engaged in farming.

present for the service which was in the living room of the church parsonage.

Masses of vari-colored spring flowers decorated the room for the wedding.

Miss Minnie Brigner, sister of the bride, and Miss Maxine Fortner, sister of the bridegroom were bridesmaids. Mr. Harold Horn of Saltcreek Township served as best man.

For her wedding, the bride chose a frock of medium blue crepe trimmed in dusty rose with which she wore white accessories. Her attendants, Miss Brigner in lavender crepe and Miss Fortner in dusty rose lace, complemented their frocks with white accessories.

After the ceremony, an informal reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Goldfrederick of Columbus. Mrs. Goldfrederick is an aunt of the bridegroom.

The guests were seated at a long table set in the dining room for the lunch served at high noon. Bowls of lovely spring flowers centered the table.

Those served were the new Mr. and Mrs. Fortner, Mrs. James Brigner, Miss Brigner of Jackson Township; Mrs. Arthur Fortner, Mr. Donald Fortner, Mr. Paul Fortner, Miss Fortner, Mr. Horn, Mr. James Weethee of near Laurelville; Mrs. Ernest Borders, Mrs. Zola Olson of Reynoldsburg; Mr. Edward Fortner, Mr. and Mrs. Goldfrederick of Columbus.

The former Miss Brigner is a graduate of Jackson Township High School in the class of 1939. Mr. Fortner graduated in 1936 from Saltcreek Township High School. He and his bride will make their home in Jackson Township where Mr. Fortner is engaged in farming.

BRITISH FORCES ACT AT LOUVAIN

territory, according to a French military spokesman.
Paris military circles contended that the German attempts to spread out fanwise from Sedan were repulsed and that the Nazi forces there are now being held in check.

They added that the situation along the front between Sedan and Namur is confused and serious, but that there is no need for anxiety.

Allied and German warplanes and motorized units were locked in a death struggle between the French and Belgian cities as the Allies launched counter-attacks aimed at throwing the Germans back into the River Meuse.

"I can only make general indications," the French military spokesman said, "but the enemy apparently crossed the Meuse at several points, from which he is throwing tanks, armored cars, mobile artillery and mechanized forces as hard as possible deep into the rear of our lines."

"I assure you we took our dispositions in plenty of time and we are confident that we will settle this question. 'There is no reason for panic among the population.'"

temporary strike in protest against a Yugoslavian government order prohibiting a demonstration of sympathy for Soviet Russia. Marching groups of students were dispersed by police. There were no arrests.

NEW YORK — All cable, telephone and radio communication with the Netherlands and Belgium was under a "blackout" today save for a small number of official government messages allowed to pass through, U. S. communications companies reported. The various services ceased shortly after noon yesterday.

OTTAWA — The question of whether or not Canada is extending her greatest possible effort to help England in the war was expected to occupy virtually all of the attention of Canada's 19th parliament which met today.

PARIS—Premier Paul Reynaud conferred today with War Minister Edouard Daladier, Senate President Jules Jeanneney, Chamber of Deputies President Edouard Herriot, Interior Minister Henri Roy, Public Works Minister Anatole De Monzie, Merchant Marine Minister Alphonse Rio, Vice Premier Camille Chautemps and military authorities.

BERLIN—Dino Alfieri arrived in Berlin to assume his new post as Italian ambassador to the Reich. He was given a gala welcome which was regarded as increasing evidence of intensified operation of the Italo-German partnership.

PARIS—The Belgian newspaper L'Ameuse published its first "refugee edition" in Paris today. The issue was dated May 14, 15 and 16.

BRUSSELS — King Leopold of the Belgians sent a message of encouragement today to Belgian troops holding out against German assaults in the Liege forts. "Resist to the end for your country," exhorted the monarch. "I am proud of you."

AMBULANCE UNIT HEADED BY AMERICAN UNDER FIRE

PARIS, May 16—Word was received today that Anne Morgan, sister of J. P. Morgan, is under fire with her corps of ambulance and supply truck drivers at the village of Villers-Cotterets near the Ardennes.

Miss Morgan telephoned the Paris headquarters of her volunteer unit after she and her companions had been forced back from the Ardennes.

The village where they are now stationed, Miss Morgan said, "has been and is being bombed continually."

THREE YOUNGSTERS WHO DO NOT LIKE SCHOOL ADMIT STARTING BLAZE

NEWPORT, Ky., May 16—Police today held three boys who reportedly confessed they started the $50,000 school building fire in Newport last Saturday because they didn't like to study.

Apparently unashamed and unremorseful, the trio, two 12 and one 13 years of age, confessed, police said, that they broke into the building and started the blaze that closed the school to 300 other pupils.

ATTACHMENT ASSIGNED

The attachment case of Felix Jachim will be heard before Judge Meeker Terwilliger Friday afternoon at 1 p. m. The case originated when the city of Circleville sued Jachim for $192.50 hospital expenses for treatment of injuries he received September 9 when he was shot fleeing the Eshlman mill office where police say he was attempting to rob the safe. Jachim, a resident of Youngstown, is now in the Ohio penitentiary.

PARTIES SEEK TO HEAL WOES

too, are major candidates and must be reckoned with. Some observers weighed the possibility that this triumvirate might insist that a special campaign committee not dominated by Schorr be set up to guide their impending campaigns against the Democrats.

When the primary results became known Schorr hastened to assure one and all that he did only what he conceived to be his duty as the party leader in making endorsements. He re-dedicated himself to the purpose of doing "always that which is honestly deemed to be for the best interests of the party," and called for a strong, well-organized campaign to elect Republican nominees in November.

Davey Hits Reprisals
On the Democratic side, Martin L. Davey, the gubernatorial nominee, extended the olive branch to all Democrats, including those who opposed him in the primary, promising no reprisals.

But he still found himself confronted with the huge task of erasing the resentment of an opposition faction against his asserted failure to support the Democratic nominee for governor two years ago, National Committeeman Charles Sawyer.

Sawyer defeated Davey for re-nomination then and at present Democratic state headquarters is in control of Arthur Limbach, the executive committee chairman selected by Sawyer. Limbach will step down in a few weeks when the executive committee is reorganized by the new state central committee. He had signified his intention of doing so regardless of who was nominated for governor.

It was Chairman Limbach who declared a few days before the primary that even if nominated Davey could not hope to defeat Governor Bricker in the general election. Limbach likewise tried unsuccessfully to keep Davey off the slate of delegates-at-large to the Chicago national convention.

Visitors at state headquarters after the votes were counted could detect no blossoming movement to forget past differences and climb aboard the Davey bandwagon.

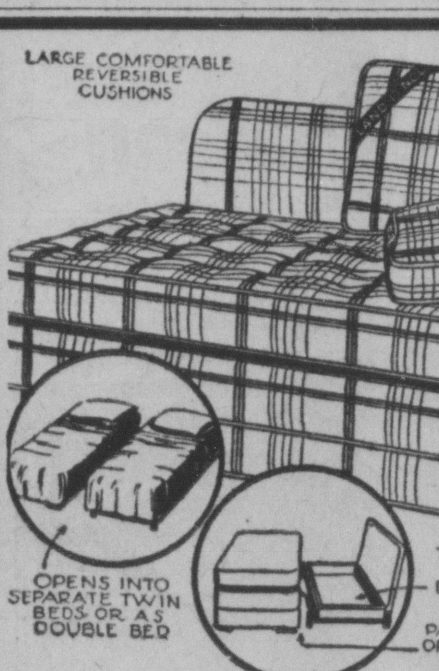

Pickens Considered
But win or lose in November Davey, as the party nominee for governor, will control the party organization for the next two years. He is said to be considering both J. Freer Bittinger and Ferd Pickens, two trusted aides, to succeed Limbach as executive committee chairman.

As he polled more votes in the gubernatorial primary than the other six candidates combined, it would appear that no one was in a position to seriously threaten his control of the organization for some time, at least.

COLUMBUS, May 16—Complete unofficial primary returns from the state's 8,624 precincts as compiled by the Secretary of State showed the following:

Republicans: Governor—Bricker 594,545; Lieutenant-Governor—Herbert 513,639; Secretary of State—Neffner 188,295; Hummel 303,581; State Auditor—Tracy 174,417; Bangham 119,766; Hoover 108,510; Dunn 63,086; Fross 30,772; Johnson 26,484; Hotes 20,985; State Treasurer—Ebright

EX-KAISER WILL STAY AT DOORN, FAMILY LEARNS

BERLIN, May 16—In spite of the war raging around him, Kaiser Wilhelm is determined to remain at Doorn, Holland, where he has lived in exile since the World War, the Hohenzollern family was notified today.

Word of the former Kaiser's decision was sent to Berlin by General Von Dommes, who was dispatched to ascertain the Kaiser's welfare shortly after the German invasion of the low countries.

General Von Dommes reported he found Wilhelm safe at Doorn, but stated the Kaiser informed him "emphatically" that he intended to continue living at Doorn regardless of the war.

territory, according to a French military spokesman.

Paris military circles contended that the German attempts to spread out fanwise from Sedan were repulsed and that the Nazi forces there are now being held in check.

They added that the situation along the front between Sedan and Namur is confused and serious, but that there is no need for anxiety.

Allied and German warplanes and motorized units were locked in a death struggle between the French and Belgian cities as the Allies launched counter-attacks aimed at throwing the Germans back into the River Meuse.

"I can only make general indications," the French military spokesman said, "but the enemy apparently crossed the Meuse at several points, from which he is throwing tanks, armored cars, mobile artillery and mechanized forces as hard as possible deep into the rear of our lines."

"I assure you we took our dispositions in plenty of time and we are confident that we will settle this question. There is no reason for panic among the population."

temporary strike in protest against a Yugoslavian government order prohibiting a demonstration of sympathy for Soviet Russia. Marching groups of students were dispersed by police. There were no arrests.

NEW YORK—All cable, telephone and radio communication with the Netherlands and Belgium was under a "blackout" today save for a small number of official government messages allowed to pass through, U. S. communications companies reported. The various services ceased shortly after noon yesterday.

OTTAWA—The question of whether or not Canada is extending her greatest possible effort to help England in the war was expected to occupy virtually all of the attention of Canada's 19th parliament which met today.

PARIS—Premier Paul Reynaud conferred today with War Minister Edouard Daladier, Senate President Jules Jeanneney, Chamber of Deputies President Edouard Herriot, Interior Minister Henri Roy, Public Works Minister Anatole De Monzie, Merchant Marine Minister Alphonse Rio, Vice Premier Camille Chautemps and military authorities.

BERLIN—Dino Alfieri arrived in Berlin to assume his new post as Italian ambassador to the Reich. He was given a gala welcome which was regarded as increasing evidence of intensified operation of the Italo-German partnership.

PARIS—The Belgian newspaper L'Amusee published its first "refugee edition" in Paris today. The issue was dated May 14, 15 and 16.

BRUSSELS—King Leopold of the Belgians sent a message of encouragement today to Belgian troops holding out against German assaults in the Liege forts. "Resist to the end for your country," exhorted the monarch. "I am proud of you."

AMBULANCE UNIT HEADED BY AMERICAN UNDER FIRE

PARIS, May 16—Word was received today that Anne Morgan, sister of J. P. Morgan, is under fire with her corps of ambulance and supply truck drivers at the village of Villers-Cotterets near the Ardennes.

Miss Morgan telephoned the Paris headquarters of her volunteer unit after she and her companions had been forced back from the Ardennes.

The village where they are now stationed, Miss Morgan said, "has been and is being bombed continually."

THREE YOUNGSTERS WHO DO NOT LIKE SCHOOL ADMIT STARTING BLAZE

NEWPORT, Ky., May 16—Police today held three boys who reportedly confessed they started the $50,000 school building fire in Newport last Saturday because they didn't like to study.

Apparently unashamed and unremorseful, the trio, two 12 and one 13 years of age, confessed, police said, that they broke into the building and started the blaze that closed the school to 300 other pupils.

too, are major candidates and must be reckoned with. Some observers weighed the possibility that this triumvirate might insist that a special campaign committee not dominated by Schorr be set up to guide their impending campaigns against the Democrats.

When the primary results became known Schorr hastened to assure one and all that he did only what he conceived to be his duty as the party leader in making endorsements. He re-dedicated himself to the purpose of doing "always that which is honestly deemed to be for the best interests of the party," and called for a strong, well-organized campaign to elect Republican nominees in November.

Davey Hits Reprisals

On the Democratic side, Martin L. Davey, the gubernatorial nominee, extended the olive branch to all Democrats, including those who opposed him in the primary, promising no reprisals.

But he still found himself confronted with the huge task of erasing the resentment of an opposition faction against his asserted failure to support the Democratic nominee for governor two years ago, National Committeeman Charles Sawyer.

Sawyer defeated Davey for re-nomination then and at present Democratic state headquarters is in control of Arthur Limbach, the executive committee chairman selected by Sawyer. Limbach will step down in a few weeks when the executive committee is reorganized by the new state central committee. He had signified his intention of doing so regardless of who was nominated for governor.

It was Chairman Limbach who declared a few days before the primary that even if nominated Davey could not hope to defeat Governor Bricker in the general election. Limbach likewise tried unsuccessfully to keep Davey off the slate of delegates-at-large to the Chicago national convention.

Visitors at state headquarters after the votes were counted could detect no blossoming movement to forget past differences and climb aboard the Davey bandwagon.

Pickens Considered

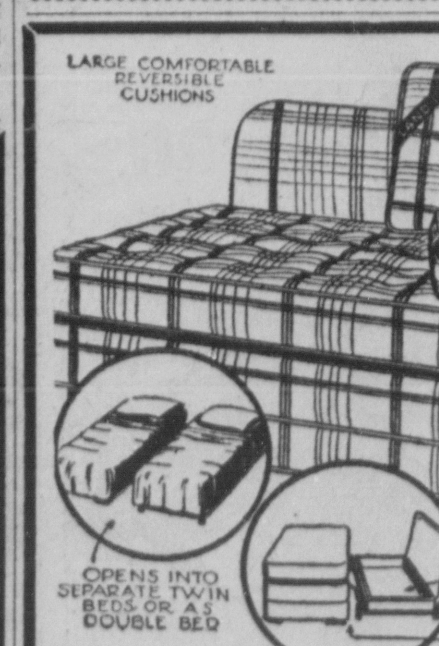

But win or lose in November Davey, as the party nominee for governor, will control the party organization for the next two years. He is said to be considering both J. Freer Bittinger and Ferd Pickens, two trusted aides, to succeed Limbach as executive committee chairman.

As he polled more votes in the gubernatorial primary than the other six candidates combined, it would appear that no one was in a position to seriously threaten his control of the organization for some time, at least.

COLUMBUS, May 16—Complete unofficial primary returns from the state's 8,624 precincts as compiled by the Secretary of State showed the following:

Republicans: Governor—Bricker 594,545; Lieutenant-Governor—Herbert 512,639; Secretary of State—Neffner 188,295; Hummel 303,581; State Auditor—Tracy 174,417; Bangham 119,766; Hoover 108,510; Dunn 63,086; Fross 30,772; Johnson 26,484; Hotes 20,985; State Treasurer—Ebright

EX-KAISER WILL STAY AT DOORN, FAMILY LEARNS

BERLIN, May 16—In spite of the war raging around him, Kaiser Wilhelm is determined to remain at Doorn, Holland, where he has lived in exile since the World War, the Hohenzollern family was notified today.

Word of the former Kaiser's decision was sent to Berlin by General Von Dommes, who was dispatched to ascertain the Kaiser's welfare shortly after the German invasion of the low countries.

Redlegs Back In Lead After Gene's Effort

Thompson In Splendid Form Against Brooklyn; Big Paul To Pitch With Luke Hamlin As His Opponent

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 16—Big Paul Derringer was to take the mound for the Cincinnati Redlegs today in an attempt to make it two out of three from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

He also was to protect the flimsy half-game lead the Reds gained over the Brooklynites by defeating them 5 to 2 yesterday. Hamlin was expected to be on the hill for the Dodgers.

FRICK TO HEAR PROTEST OF MANAGER MCKECHNIE

NEW YORK, May 16—President Ford Frick of the National League scheduled a hearing today to discuss the protest filed by the Cincinnati Reds over Tuesday's 13-inning game with the Dodgers at Ebbets Field which Brooklyn won 6 to 5.

Manager Bill McKechnie of the Reds charged that Charley Gribble's hit in the seventh inning struck umpire Bill Klem and that in violation of the rules Leo Durocher was permitted to advance from first to third on the blow. President Larry MacPhail of the Dodgers issued a statement branding the protest as "silly" as Frick's frankly admitted oversight in failing to assign umpires to the Cincinnati-St. Louis game last Monday.

INDIANAPOLIS RESIGNS GRAND CIRCUIT ROSTER

NEW YORK, May 16—E. Roland Harriman, president of the Grand Circuit, today was attempting to find another city to replace Indianapolis which withdrew and canceled the two weeks of trotting racing scheduled for the Indiana track in June and September. Refusal to use the new type of starting gate ordered by the circuit was believed to have precipitated Indianapolis' withdrawal.

First Fan For Indianapolis Ready

GANGWAY, for the nation's No. 1 automobile race fan, Francis Carson of Greenville, Mass. Carson's already lined up at the gates at the Indianapolis Speedway for the 500-mile classic, Decoration Day. If he maintains his position, Carson will be escorted through the gates with ceremony, May 30, and given his choice of any parking space in the infield.

Western Trip to Make Or Break Yank Chance

By Lawton Carver

NEW YORK, May 16—Still 6 to 5 favorites to win the American League pennant for the fifth year in a row, the New York Yankees will slump into the position of under dogs if they blow their current western tour and the Boston Red Sox will be blazing hot choices to take over the baseball throne next fall. Now in the cellar, nine games behind the hustling, fast-moving Red Sox, it is sink or swim for the Yanks in the next week. They do or they don't right now, with everything lost beyond recall unless they have snapped out of their slump by the time they begin campaigning in the East again on May 25.

All the foregoing is the opinion of the softies sentimental but always astute Mr. Jack Doyle, who loves the Yankees like so many brothers but won't let this interfere with his judgment when he arranges his betting odds. He had the Yanks odds on favorites at the start of the season, and since has juggled this to the current 6 to 5, with the Red Sox a close 3 to 2 and the Cleveland Indians 3 1/2 to 1.

"I've seen the Yankees in every one of their home games, just as I always do," Mr. Doyle confided, "and I'm sorry to say they don't look like themselves. They are pressing, for one thing, and are crabbing and squawking for another. Who ever heard of the Yankees fighting with the umpires?"

Trip Vital One
"I'm not sure they are through, but this western trip will tell the story. There is a long race ahead yet, but they won't be able to spot the Red Sox and Indians any more margin and still make it up in the stretch."

Mr. Doyle pointed out that in a half century of watching sports events and in several decades as a betting commissioner, he has learned one thing, viz: "A fighter can be washed up in one fight and a ball club in one season."

"You can rarely tell when either is going to blow," said Mr. Doyle, "and just to show you how hot the Yankees are, or were, I saw a fellow bet $5,000 against $6,000 in Florida last March that the Yankees would win both the pennant and the World Series again."

"And they still may do it, but their chances are slipping more and more every day. The pitching hasn't been too good and that infield—the best in either league in many years—is no longer functioning in such a way as to make the pitching great. It used to be that you could hardly fire a bullet through there, but that hasn't been true this year."

Reds Still Liked
In the National League, the Cincinnati Reds are 4 to 5 odds on favorites to repeat, with Brooklyn's Dodgers second choices at 2 to 1 and the St. Louis Cardinals next at 3 to 1.

"Personally I think the Reds will win their pennant off by themselves, and I always did," Mr. Doyle said.
Hence, it will be a Cincinnati-Boston World Series next fall unless things begin to happen very quickly. As to that, it looks as though the Dodgers have a better chance in their league than the Yankees have in the American.

Heroes and Goats
HEROES: Harry French, Cubs, who pitched a two-hit shutout over the Bees; Willard Hershberger, Reds catcher, whose triple with the bases loaded beat the Dodgers.

THREE TEXANS LIKED AS GOODALL TOURNEY OPENS

FLUSHING, N. Y., May 16—Jimmy Demaret, Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan, a trio of Texans, were favorites today as they prepared to tee off in a field of 15 hand-picked professionals in the third annual $5,000 Goodall round robin golf tournament.

With only one round slated for today, play was scheduled to begin at 1:30 p. m. Two rounds will be played tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday, making a total of 126 holes for the tournament. They will swing around the course in threesomes with all holes to be played out on a match play basis and with each entrant meeting each of the other 14, the greatest number of plus holes at the finish to determine the winner.

Most of the entrants have been here practicing over the Fresh Meadow layout for several days. Latest arrival was Byron Nelson, National Open champion, who was delayed until today.

Besides Nelson, Demaret and Hogan, the field includes, Henry Picard, Sam Snead, Clayton Heafner, Craig Wood, Lawson Little, Gene Sarazen, Dick Metz, Paul Runyan, Jimmy Thompson, Horton Smith, Jimmy Hines and Martin Pose, the latter Argentine and French champion.

HEART CONDITION MAY STOP MAKI'S RUNNING

LOS ANGELES, May 18—Taisto Maki, Finland's world champion distance runner, has a "heart murmur" and may not run again, it was learned today.

The little Finn, in Los Angeles to race in a Finnish benefit performance tomorrow night, was to be given another cardiac examination at conclusion of tune-up race this morning.

Yesterday he was examined by an eminent Los Angeles physician whose name was withheld by request and the verdict was Maki's heart condition was "grave." There was, the physician said, a decided murmur.

MOST OF MOVIE SOLDIER GROUP HOUSES SHOWING DOUBLE FILMS SET FOR JUNE

HOLLYWOOD.—Although multiple feature film programs are the continuing target of attack by various groups throughout the United States, approximately 59% of all American film theaters now play two or more feature-length pictures, the 1940 Film Daily Year Book revealed.

Of the 17,003 film theaters now operating in the U. S. — another 2,029 are closed—10,031 have a so-called dual policy. Of the 59 percent 30 percent follow a consistent multiple feature policy, 29 percent play double features or single attractions as occasion dictates. Territorial high for double feature is the Northeast's 72 percent territorial low, the South's 28 percent.

The comprehensive statistical picture of the American film industry disclosed that there were 458 actors under term contract to major Hollywood studios last year, while the number of directors so engaged was 117 and writers, 375. Hollywood extras placed through Central Casting, which serves all studios, earned a total of $3,124,671.64 as compared with $2,848,445.68 in 1938. However, the average daily wage of extras dropped from $10.78 in 1938 to $10.61.

The average extra worked only 29.89 days in 1939, and the average annual earning per individual were $316.26.

Of the nearly 10,000 extras, 6,678 earned less than $500, 2,245 received from $500 to $1,000, 888 earned from $1,000 to $2,000, and 58 were paid from $2,000 to $2,000, the latter the maximum figure.

Redlegs Back In Lead After Gene's Effort

Thompson In Splendid Form Against Brooklyn; Big Paul To Pitch With Luke Hamlin As His Opponent

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 16—Big Paul Derringer was to take the mound for the Cincinnati Redlegs today in an attempt to make it two out of three from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

He also was to protect the flimsy half-game lead the Reds gained over the Brooklynites by defeating them 5 to 2 yesterday. Hamlin was expected to be on the hill for the Dodgers.

NEW YORK, May 16—President Ford Frick of the National League scheduled a hearing today to discuss the protest filed by the Cincinnati Reds over Tuesday's 13-inning game with the Dodgers at Ebbets Field which Brooklyn won 6 to 5.

Manager Bill McKechnie of the Reds charged that Charley Gilbert's hit in the seventh inning struck Umpire Bill Klem and that in violation of the rules Leo Durocher was permitted to advance from first to third on the blow. President Larry MacPhail of the Dodgers issued a statement branding the protest as "silly" as Frick's frankly admitted oversight in failing to assign umpires to the Cincinnati-St. Louis game last Monday.

Judge Landis summoned DiMaggio to explain reports he pays a manager a percentage of his salary. It has been rumored that the ballplayer has been paying 12 percent to Joe Gould, prize fight manager, and that Gould in turn gives two percent to Jim Bradlock, former heavyweight champion.

DiMaggio, in Chicago with the Yankees, vigorously denied that he pays any part of his salary to anyone, and he declared the reports he pays a manager are entirely untrue. Judge Landis' office refused any comment on the matter.

Western Trip to Make Or Break Yank Chance

By Lawton Carver
NEW YORK, May 16—Still 6 to 5 favorites to win the American League pennant for the fifth year in a row, the New York Yankees will slump into the position of under dogs if they blow their current western tour and the Boston Red Sox will be blazing hot choices to take over the baseball throne next fall. Now in the cellar, nine games behind the hustling, fast-moving Red Sox, it is sink or swim for the Yanks in the next week. They do or they don't right now, with everything lost beyond recall unless they have snapped out of their slump by the time they begin campaigning in the East again on May 25.

All the foregoing is the opinion of the sometimes sentimental but always astute Mr. Jack Doyle, who loves the Yankees like so many brothers but won't let this interfere with his judgment when he arranges his betting odds. He had the Yanks odds on favorites at the start of the season, and since has juggled this to the current 6 to 5, with the Red Sox a close 3 to 2 and the Cleveland Indians 3 1/2 to 1.

"I've seen the Yankees in every one of their home games, just as I always do," Mr. Doyle confided, "and I'm sorry to say they don't look like themselves. They are pressing, for one thing, and crabbiness and squawking for another. Who ever heard of the Yankees fighting with the umpires?"

Tripp Vital One
"I'm not sure they are through, but this western trip will tell the story. There is a long race ahead yet, but they won't be able to spot the Red Sox and Indians any more margin and still make it up in the stretch."

Mr. Doyle pointed out that in a half century of watching sports events and in several decades as a betting commissioner, he has learned one thing, viz: "A fighter can be washed up in one fight and a ball club in one season."

"You can rarely tell when either is going to blow," said Mr. Doyle, "and just to show you how hot the Yankees are, or were, I saw a fellow bet $5,000 against $6,000 in Florida last March that the Yankees would win both the pennant and the World Series again."

"And they still may do it, but their chances are slipping more and more every day. The pitching hasn't been too good and that infield—the best in either league in many years—is no longer functioning in such a way as to make the pitching great. It used to be that you could hardly fire a bullet through there, but that hasn't been true this year."

Reds Still Liked
In the National League, the Cincinnati Reds are 4 to 5 odds on favorites to repeat, with Brooklyn's Dodgers second choices at 2 to 1 and the St. Louis Cardinals next at 3 to 1.

"Personally I think the Reds will win their pennant off by themselves, and I always did," Mr. Doyle said. Hence, it will be a Cincinnati-Boston World Series next fall unless things begin to happen very quickly. As to that, it looks as though the Dodgers have a better chance in their league than the Yankees have in the American League.

U. S. SHIPYARDS ENJOYING BOOM WITH BUILDING

Industry Running At Near Peak; Delaware River Area Sets Record

BIG VARIETY ERECTED

Tankers And Battleships Being Prepared; Many Provided Jobs

PHILADELPHIA, May 16 — Telling a story of almost daily upsurging in shipbuilding to an all-time peak, a dozen ships ranging from lowly oil tankers to the $65,000,000 battleship Washington are under construction today in three giant Delaware River shipyards.

Seven of the vessels are on the ways of the Sun Shipbuilding & Drydock Company, Chester, Pa.; four are being built at the New York Shipbuilding Corporation plant in Camden, N. J., and the Washington is being assembled at the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

Some 22,500 workers drawing a weekly payroll of hundreds of thousands of dollars are engaged in the task of fabricating these vessels. The payroll for New York Shipbuilding alone reached $260,000-a-week.

In each plant operations are described as being at capacity. Approximately 6,400 workers are employed at the Sun yard in Chester, where 3,200 is considered normal; 6,700 men are laboring at the Camden concern, and 9,400 are working at the Philadelphia Navy Yard aircraft factories.

These Ships Completed
The dozen vessels now being built tell only a part of the story of bustling activity along the "Clyde of America." Three ships have been completed only recently and 33 more are already in prospect for 1940.

Here is the picture at each of the Delaware's three major maritime plants:

Chester:
On the ways now are three cargo vessels and four oil tankers. The 14,000-ton seatrain, Texas, was launched last month. Capable of carrying 100 freight cars, the Texas is a sister ship of the seatrain New Jersey, launched March 9.

Within two weeks another vessel will be started on the ways vacated by the Texas.

Including the vessels already listed the Sun Shipbuilding Company began 1940 with orders for 24 ships, has obtained 13 more orders since January 1 making a total of 37 contracted for to date for 1940, according to William Creamer, secretary-treasurer of the firm.

Camden:
On the ways now are the Battleship South Dakota the seaplan tenders Curtiss and Albemarle and the repair ship Vulcan.

The destroyer tender Dixie left the yard March 25 for a trial run and is to be delivered May 1. The destroyer tender Prairie, launched December 9, 1939, is being readied for a trial run about two months from now.

March 4 the New York Shipbuilding Corporation, currently engaged solely in naval work, was awarded construction of the light cruisers Cleveland and Columbia on bids of $17,990,000 each.

Philadelphia:
Began last summer, the Washington is to be completed in four years, but a definite finishing date is not known.

Largest ship ever to be built on the Delaware will be the $90,000,000 super-battleship New Jersey assigned to the Navy Yard, but not yet started through actual construction.

Ready to be commissioned

U. S. SHIPYARDS ENJOYING BOOM WITH BUILDING

Industry Running At Near Peak; Delaware River Area Sets Record

BIG VARIETY ERECTED
Tankers And Battleships Being Prepared; Many Provided Jobs

PHILADELPHIA, May 16—Telling a story of almost daily upsurging in shipbuilding to an all-time peak, a dozen ships ranging from lowly oil tankers to the $65,000,000 battleship Washington are under construction today in three giant Delaware River shipyards.

Seven of the vessels are on the ways of the Sun Shipbuilding & Drydock Company, Chester, Pa.; four are being built at the New York Shipbuilding Corporation plant in Camden, N. J., and the Washington is being assembled at the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

Some 22,500 workers drawing a weekly payroll of hundreds of thousands of dollars are engaged in the task of fabricating these vessels. The payroll for New York Shipbuilding alone reached $260,000-a-week.

In each plant operations are described as being at capacity. Approximately 6,400 workers are employed at the Sun yard in Chester, where 3,200 is considered normal; 6,700 men are laboring at the Camden concern, and 9,400 are working at the Philadelphia Navy Yard aircraft factories.

These Ships Completed
The dozen vessels now being built tell only a part of the story of bustling activity along the "Clyde of America." Three ships have been completed only recently and 33 more are already in prospect for 1940.

Here is the picture at each of the Delaware's three major maritime plants:
Chester: On the ways now are three cargo vessels and four oil tankers. The 14,000-ton seatrail, Texas, was launched last month. Capable of carrying 100 freight cars, the Texas is a sister ship of the seatrail New Jersey, launched March 9.

Within two weeks another vessel will be started on the ways vacated by the Texas.

Including the vessels already listed the Sun Shipbuilding Company began 1940 with orders for 24 ships, has obtained 13 more orders since January 1 making a total of 37 contracted for to date for 1940, according to William Creamer, secretary-treasurer of the firm.

Camden: On the ways now are the Battleship South Dakota the seaplan tenders Curtiss and Albemarle and the repair ship Vulcan.

The destroyer tender Dixie left the yard March 25 for a trial run and is to be delivered May 1. The destroyer tender Prairie, launched December 9, 1939, is being readied for a trial run about two months from now.

March 4 the New York Shipbuilding Corporation, currently engaged solely in naval work, was awarded construction of the light cruisers Cleveland and Columbia on bids of $17,990,000 each.

Begun last summer, the Washington is to be completed in four years, but a definite finishing date is not known.

Largest ship ever to be built on the Delaware will be the $90,000,000 super-battleship New Jersey, assigned to the Navy Yard, but not yet started through actual construction.

Ready to be commissioned shortly is the destroyer Buck, launched last year.

STILL AWAITING CALL
LONDON—Fireman Wilfred Goodyear of Highgate, has never been to a fire in the two months he has been in the special war time fire-station. When on duty at the fire station he took the first call in that time but was not permitted to attend the fire. When the brigade arrived back at the station he was told the call was to his home, which had been burnt out.

MORE CURRANTS
LONDON—Housewives are being urged to put more currants in their cookies and thereby help British foreign policy. An official of the Food Ministry stated that Britain had made large purchases of dried fruits from the Balkan countries for "reasons of policy." Among the fruits are raisins, dates and figs.

Hopes for Tax Levy Vote Hit By Solicitor

Adkins Says Circleville Cannot Put Issue On Ballot As Long As Pact With Commissioners Continues

Hopes that the city's relief problem might be solved by a special 1 1/2 mill tax levy on real estate were destroyed Wednesday night when Solicitor Joe Adkins told council that such a measure was unlawful.

Due to the existing relief cooperation contract which the city has with Pickaway County, no tax levy may be submitted to the people for vote unless the action is taken by the County Commissioners.

It is through the county that the present relief funds are handled.

If the county should break the contract because the city has failed to furnish its share of the relief load, the city would then be permitted to go ahead with its special election for the 1 1/2 mill levy.

Since recent figures released by Miss Lillian Young, city auditor, show that Circleville has less than $8,000 to run its government until September, the relief situation becomes even more critical.

The county commissioners eased their problem slightly Monday by transferring $5,000 from general to relief funds.

OHIO STATE CONVENTION BEGINS WITH HILARITY

COLUMBUS, May 16 — With hilarity and catchy slogans taking the spotlight, the second and final session of the Ohio State University mock convention tonight was to select a presidential nominee.

The convention got under way last night with such slogans as "Buck Bricker Rides Again" and "Hull, Hull, the Gang's all Here" very much in evidence. However, President Roosevelt seemed to have a lot of support, too.

All that was apparently standing in his way were delegations from the District of Columbia and New England. The District of Columbia delegates took no part in the first session. Carrying a lantern, they walked around the hall, declaring they were "pursuing a Diogenesian search for an honest man." The New England delegation protested they could not see the platform for the Roosevelt banner.

One student, apparently not interested in the proceedings, kept asking: "When do we start kissing the babes—er, babies?"

SMALL WHEAT CROP

DENVER, — Colorado's 1940 wheat crop will be the smallest in three years, and more than 3,500,000 bushels under the average crop of the last ten years, a United States Department of Agriculture report revealed here recently.

And the man at the next desk says he marvels at the athletic ability of war communiqué writers. He says they are almost unbeatable at jumping at conclusions.

Hopes for Tax Levy Vote Hit By Solicitor

Adkins Says Circleville Cannot Put Issue On Ballot As Long As Pact With Commissioners Continues

Hopes that the city's relief problem might be solved by a special 1½ mill tax levy on real estate were destroyed Wednesday night when Solicitor Joe Adkins told council that such a measure was unlawful. Due to the existing relief cooperation contract which the city has with Pickaway County, no tax levy may be submitted to the people for vote unless the action is taken by the County Commissioners. It is through the county that the present relief funds are handled. If the county should break the contract because the city has failed to furnish its share of the relief load, the city would then be permitted to go ahead with its special election for the 1½ mill levy.

STARS SAY—

For Thursday, May 16

UNUSUAL and surprising activity may be looked for on this day, judging by the lunar and mutual aspects of inciting planets. There may be a very surprising turn of events, with much transpiring which may have a radical and far-reaching influence on the future life and fortunes. Much depends upon making a wise and benefic choice under this critical but progressive urge. The energies, abilities and emotions as well as under creative and dynamic stimuli. Important new projects, or extremely progressive programs, with the element of the novel, revolutionary or idealistic, are under thrilling insistence. Romance and adventure are in the air and youth must have its fling.

Those whose birthday it is are on the brink of a year of most thrilling and romantic adventure, with all things of a new, novel, unique or revolutionary cast being assured of probably spectacular fulfillment. Youth, modernism and audacity, whether in science, invention, wild forms of creative expression or emotional thrills, seem to clamor for attention or spectacular achievement. But there are some obstacles and opposition of the mighty, to vanquish with trepidity and persistence. All progressive and speculative attempts seem to thrive.

A child born on this day should be richly endowed with talents of a rare order, with intellectual, literary, scientific, inventive and creative skill to assure it renown or public acclaim in any number of novel achievements or adventures. Audacious, progressive and romantic, it may have little co-operation from those in high places financially.

SMALL WHEAT CROP

DENVER, — Colorado's 1940 wheat crop will be the smallest in three years, and more than 3,500,000 bushels under the average crop of the last ten years, a United States Department of Agriculture report revealed here recently.

OHIO STATE CONVENTION BEGINS WITH HILARITY

COLUMBUS, May 16 — With hilarity and catchy slogans taking the spotlight, the second and final session of the Ohio State University mock convention tonight was to select a presidential nominee. The convention got under way last night with such slogans as "Buck Bricker Rides Again" and "Hull, Hull, the Gang's all Here" very much in evidence. However, President Roosevelt seemed to have a lot of support, too.

All that was apparently standing in his way were delegations from the District of Columbia and New England. The District of Columbia delegates took no part in the first session. Carrying a lantern, they walked around the hall, declaring they were "pursuing a Diogenesian search for an honest man." The New England delegation protested they could not see the platform for the Roosevelt banner.

One student, apparently not interested in the proceedings, kept asking: "When do we start kissing the babes—er, babies?"

And the man at the next desk says he marvels at the athletic ability of war communicators. He says they are almost unbeatable at jumping at conclusions.

Trapped in War

MRS. Gladys Steenkoven and her daughter Connie, above, may be trapped in Holland as a result of the Nazi invasion, according to relatives living at Santa Monica, Cal. The two accompanied Steenkoven to the Netherlands where he is a tulip broker.
